GRODNO TAKEN BY POLE ARMY SAYS WARSAW

Retirement in Region of the City Admitted in Official Statement of Soviet

MILITARY SITUATION NOT SO BAD DECLARES TROTZKY

Poland Cannot Consistently Refuse Terms Says War Minister

WARSAW, Sept. 27.—Grodno, an important city in Northwestern Russia near the Lithuanian frontier, has been captured by Polish troops after heavy fighting, says an official statement today. A large number of prisoners and much war material were taken by the Poles, it is said. For some days Polish forces have been gradually working their way around the city, which has been the concentration point of Russian bolshevik forces on the northwestern Polish front.

"North of the Niemen," continues the statement, "our detachments are pursuing the scattered enemy. Repeated enemy attacks on Lubisz were repulsed with great losses.

"In the region of Rozany and Volkovysk (southeast of Grodno) the enemy has begun a gradual retreat beyond the Sznazare river.

"North of Rovno (Volhynia) we destroyed the nineteenth soviet brigade which had instructions to retake Rovno.

"North of Volochysk (on the old Galician border east of Tarnapol) we took Medyn and Toki, forcing the enemy to retreat to the northeast.

"The Ukrainian army is enlarging its positions east of the Zbruch river."

Reds Admit Defeat

LONDON, Sept. 27.—A retirement by the Russians in the Grodno region is admitted by the RRssian soviet war office in Sunday's official statement received by wireless today. An advance to the southeast of Grodno, where the capture of Volkovysk is claimed, is recorded by the statement.

Must Accept Terms

LONDON, Sept. 27.—In a statement to the Moscow correspondent of the Manchester Guardian regarding the peace terms offered by the soviet government to the Poles at the Riga conference, Leon Trotzky, soviet war minister, declared:

"If the Poles refuse peace on those terms this will convince the most backward peasant in the darkest corner that it is impossible to obtain peace without a fight to a finish."

Trotzky declared the bolshevik military situation was not so bad by a great deal as military circles in western Europe imagined.

RIOTING RESUMED IN BELFAST

FOOD PRICES ON THE TOBOGGAN IS OPINION OF CHICAGO RETAILER

CHICAGO, Sept. 27—A general reduction in food prices, was predicted today by Sol Westerfeld, president of the Retail Grocers' association, who declared all articles of food, with the exception of eggs and butter, are due for a steady decline. The unwillingness of banks to loan money except at high interest rates has resulted in producers cutting prices to move their goods, Westerfeld said.

"The reductions have been felt all over Chicago," he said. 'Potatoes are selling at 45 to 55 cents a peck, the lowest in years. I expect they will reach less than two cents a pound.

"Tomatoes are selling at ten to fifteen cents for two and one-half pound baskets.

"Sugar has dropped to fifteen cents and will go lower when the new crop comes in.

"Canned goods being packed will have to be sold cheaply to move it, despite high wage costs." Westerfeld said, "because the banks will not loan canners enough money to carry the stock.

"The declines in wheat have brought a sharp drop in flour," he continued "Although the bakers' production costs have increased. I look for a reduction in bread prices. Coffee has dropped ten cents a pound.

"Fruit prices are at a minimum. Despite the excessive decay there are large quantities of peaches at $1.50 a case. This is less than the prices demanded since 1914.

"Generally lower prices are in sight. Although it may mean financial loss to producers and distributors, the nation will benefit, and a return to normal conditions will be effected."

Seven pleasure boats sent to Michigan by municipal authorities to bring back fruit are expected here Wednesday. City officials will sell the fruit at cost plus transportation.

BLAINE AND STATE CHIEF CONFER WITH G. O. P. COMMITTEE

Spend Saturday in Chicago With National Leaders; Peterson Seeking Harmony

THOMPSON STILL SILENT ON REPORTED CANDIDACY

Nonpartisan League Anxious for Independent Against Lenroot

James Thompson was still silent today when asked about persistent reports about the state that he would run as an independent candidate for the United States senate. The local attorney refused to discuss the matter in any way.

MADISON, Wis., Sept. 27.—Wisconsin republicans have their eyes on the calendar and their ears to the ground. September 29 and October 2 are big days for the G. O. P. organization.

The new state central committee meets in Milwaukee September 29, when Alvin Peterson assumes the reins as chairman. October 3 is the final date for the filing of independent candidacies.

Events at the committee meeting may decide whether or not there will be independents on the November 2 ballot.

Peterson and Blaine in Chicago

Peterson and John J. Blaine, La Follettite and republican nominee for governor, conferred with the republican national committee in Chicago Saturday. The Wisconsin situation was presented to the national committeemen.

Peterson and Blaine are personally friendly. Peterson is understood to believe that Blaine will be "good." But anti-La Follette republican leaders are not as optimistic.

Warnings are being sent the new state chairman. They point to the stand La Follette took in an editorial in the latest issue of his magazine in which he attacked Lenroot and demands his defeat.

Blaine's statement to the convention, in which he declares he and the other La Follette candidates decline to run on the state platform is pointed to by many as further evidence that there is no intention on the part of Blaine to be "good."

There is a widespread movement on among Nonpartisan leaguers for an independent candidate to oppose Lenroot. This was evidenced on the floor of the platform convention where leaguers openly declared that "something was stirring on Lenroot."

The Wisconsin Leader, official organ of the league in Wisconsin, carries a story in its last issue citing a resolution adopted by Kenosha county leaguers in which they declared they will not support Lenroot. William J. Morgan nominee for attorney general, or Henry Johnson, nominee for state treasurer. The G. O. P. state platform was condemned. The meeting is called an "indignation meeting" by the Leader.

Morgan is at the tape, ready to spring. He is primed to "bop off" and when he does it has been indicated he is going to land on the La Follette candidates from Blaine down. Morgan is going to fight the Nonpartisan league. He let it be known yesterday that there was going to be "no pulling off of Morgan."

Anti-La Follette and anti-Nonpartisan league factions are suspicious and aroused. The La Follette-league forces are also suspicious. The antis are convinced that La Follette has "something up his sleeve." Peterson has a heroic job on his hand.

WOMAN GETS U. S. POST

GREETING FROM MARSHAL FOCH READ TO LEGION

CLEVELAND, Ohio, Sept. 27.—Greetings from Marshal Foch of France were read to the American Legion convention here today. He sent this message.

To the American Legion in convention assembled, Cleveland, Ohio.

Regretting my inability to find myself among the former combatants of the glorious American army my heart is with them at the moment of the second anniversary of the fighting they went through by the side of the Allies for the common cause of right and liberty. I again render homage to the valor and to the tenacity which they unceasingly showed on the battlefields of France; in the days of misfortune and the days of success; the magnificent enthusiasm with which they answered our call; the great part they took in the sacrifices of war; the glorious remembrance of those who fell on our soil, will remain a token of the profound gratitude and the indestructible union of our two countries. I send my cordial greeting to Cleveland, the "Steel City," and to the great state of Ohio which has furnished to America so many illustrious statesmen and to France so many faithful friends.

F. FOCH.
Marshal of France.

SALOONKEEPERS UP UNDER PROHIBITION ACT FURNISH BONDS

Five Local Dealers All Waive Examination Before Court Commissioner Harrison

CASES UP TO THE GRAND JURY IN THE UNITED STATES COURT

Mather Man Charged With Selling Lemon Extract With Kick

All of the saloonkeepers arrested as a result of recent raids here in which, it is alleged, federal prohibition agents seized moonshine whiskey and other beverages said to contain more than one-half of one per cent alcohol, have given bonds before United States Court Commissioner Alfred Harrison, pending the disposition of their cases by the federal grand jury.

Louis Wodzynski was arraigned before Mr. Harrison Saturday night, and waived examination, giving bond of $500 to assure his appearance in court when called.

Matt Schmidt and William Schultz appeared before Mr. Harrison Sunday morning at 11 o'clock with their attorney F. H. Hartwell, and also furnished bonds after waiving examination.

Charles W. Nichuhr went through the same procedure later.

Louis Olson, who was out of the city over Sunday returned this morning, and learning that Deputy United States Marshal Gantz had been looking for him, went to Mr. Harrison's office this morning of his own volition, waived examination and furnished a bond.

O. D. O'Connell of Mather was also arraigned before Commissioner Harrison, after arrested by Deputy Marshal Gantz, charged with selling lemon extract containing 81½ per cent alcohol to Indians.

SNIPING FROM SIDE STREETS STARTS PANIC

Rioting Resumed With Shooting of Three Policemen Followed by Killing of Three Civilians

BLOWING UP OF DEPARTMENT STORE TERRORIZES CORK

Police Fired on by Snipers Following the Explosion

BELFAST, Sept 27.—Shooting by snipers and others in the center of Belfast last night caused a panic among the crowds on Royal avenue, the city's main artery, after church hours. The disturbance followed shootings Saturday night and Sunday in which one policeman was killed and two others wounded, followed by the assassination of three civilians in reprisal by masked men.

Snipers in the Sinn Fein quarter fired into North street, which crosses Royal avenue. A tram car came into the line of fire. The Sunday night passengers, terrified, crouched on the floor until the car turned into Royal avenue. Tramcar traffic later was diverted to another route.

The rush from the side streets caused the crowd in Royal avenue to swell to large proportions, and a stampede was created when volleys suddenly rang out apparently from the Sinn Fein side streets at the top of North street. As the crowd raced in disorder along Royal avenue, shots were discharged in Rosemary street, on the southern side of the avenue, creating a panic about Castle street street junction, the most crowded spot in the city.

Women rushed about in a frenzy and there was a rush to shelter in the tramcars. Military and police hurried to Rosemary street and after protective measures, conditions quieted down.

Blow up Cork Store

CORK, Sept. 27.—A violent explosion shook this city about two o'clock this morning. It was followed by the rattle of rifle fire in the business district.

When town's people ventured forth later after the curfew had expired, they found the main thoroughfare, Patrick street, littered with glass, and the front of a large department store, which is said to employ a large number of young Sinn Feiners, completely wrecked as if by bombs.

At military headquarters it was said there were no military patrols near the wrecked store when the explosion occurred but that troops were hastened to the scene. They were fired on by snipers from the roof according to the report, and the soldiers returned the fire with several volleys. A military guard has been stationed at the store.

It is understood the theory of both the military and police is that a bomb was placed in a show window from the inside, but this is controverted by the owner. A half dozen employes sleeping upstairs were uninjured. Intense excitement prevailed throughout the city.

Countess Returns

DUBLIN, Sept. 27. — Countess Georgina Markievicz, Sinn Fein member of parliament for St. Patrick's division of Dublin, whose recent whereabouts has been a mystery, arrived in Dublin today. It is stated the authorities have been seeking her.

The countess' arrival coincided with the carrying out of raids by the police and military this forenoon.

BANK ROBBERY SUSPECTS ARRESTED AT CHIPPEWA

CHIPPEWA FALLS, Wis., Sept. 27—Three men and three women said to be their wives were arrested here today in connection with the robbery of the Exchange bank at Oshkosh, Wis., last Friday. They gave their names as Mr. and Mrs. James King of Chicago, Mr. and Mrs. C. Rogers and Mr. and Mrs. Earl Turner. At the station here they had four large trunks containing jewelry and other articles that led the authorities to believe it represented the loot of other robberies. They will be taken to Oshkosh late today. They were armed with seven pistols and two revolvers when arrested, but were overcome before they could offer resistance.

MACSWINEY SHOWS GREAT EXHAUSTION

LONDON, Sept. 27.—Lord Mayor Terence Mac Swiney of Cork passed another bad night at Brixton prison, and was in a very weak and exhausted condition this morning, said a bulletin issued by the Irish Self-Determination league. He had a little sleep before midnight. This is the forty-sixth day of his hunger strike.

THOUSAND DELEGATES AT CLEVELAND TODAY FOR LEGION MEETING

Convention Holds Half-day Session Adjourning for Big Parade This Afternoon

REPRESENTATION UNDER DISCUSSION IN COMMITTEE

Legion Now Has Two Million Members

CONVENTION HALL, CLEVELAND O., Sept. 27.—An ovation to France was the feature of the opening session here today of the second annual convention of the American Legion. J. R. McQuigg, department commander of Ohio, started the demonstration when, in reply to the address of welcome by Mayor Fitzgerald he referred to France as one of the greatest friends of the American Legion. The cheering began and calls were made for Francis E. Drake, commander of American Legion Post No. 1, Paris. When he appeared the entire assembly stood and cheered for several minutes.

The convention was called to order by Commander Franklin D'Olier.

After National Chaplin Francis Kelly had delivered the invocation he asked that everybody remain standing silent for thirty seconds that "We may still attest our ardent love, our unending affection and undying devotion to those whose great memories shall always be kept fresh by the rows of whited crosses."

A telegram of greeting from Marshal Foch of France was read and greeted with rounds of applause.

More than 1,000 delegates were in their seats in the Hippodrome theater when Commander D'Olier called to order the convention.

Adjourn for Parade

The convention was adjourned at noon to witness the parade this afternoon of approximately 20,000 former service men and women, the feature of the three days convention.

One of the first important matters to be presented before the convention after the preliminaries was a report of the credentials committee. The committee today was to decide two questions. They are:

Shall each department be allowed only its five delegates at large and one additional delegate for each 1,000 paid-up members, or shall it be allowed one additional delegate for each 1,000 paid-up members or major fraction thereof?

Shall the posts in foreign countries be allowed votes in the convention?

Pending decision of these two questions the voting strength at the convention ranged between 1,047 and 1,156.

The executive committe decided last night that representation should be upon the basis of paid-up national dues August 28, last, which on that date totalled 813,680. There was strong objection to this ruling by many states, because of an eleventh hour increase in membership. National dues for more than 1,000,000 men have been received now, it was said.

Two Million Members

R. G. Creviston, director of organization, said more than two million men have joined the legion. He explained the disparity between that figure and the number of national dues received represent delinquents and unacknowledged payments of national dues.

Veterans of all the allied nations, it is said, will start a movement at the convention to form their own "league of nations." The proposed amalgamation will include the soldiers' organizations of the United States; the Great War Veterans' association of Great Britain, the Union of Fighters of France, and several other French associations.

The convention will close Wednesday with the election of officers.

Approximately 50,000 visitors were here to witness the parade. A half holiday was proclaimed by Mayor Fitzgerald.

ESCH-CUMMINS BILL VIGOROUSLY OPPOSED BY PAUL REINSCH

Says He Could Never Bring Self to Support that Sort of Legislation

STILL "CLINGS TO ESSENTIAL PURPOSE OF WORLD LEAGUE"

Democratic Nominee Recognizes Right of Labor to Organize

DECLARING it "impossible for me to approve of such legislation as the Esch-Cummins law" and asserting that he still "clings to the essential purpose" of the League of Nations, Paul S. Reinsch, democratic candidate for the United States senate in an address before the democratic state central committee in Milwaukee, outlined his views on state and national political subjects.

The candidate, who recently returned from China, where for six years he has been busy with foreign relations, expressed his satisfaction at again being back in America and dealing with our problems.

In discussing the league of nations, Mr. Reinsch said:

"I cling to the essential purpose of this great reform (the league of nations) ready to make such modifications as will make the achievement of its purpose sure. - - - I believe that it should be plainly understood that representatives intrusted with functions under the league shall be at all times responsible to and revocable by congress. - - - The objections which have been made to the league do not bear analysis. - - - It is plain that we retain entirely in our own mind and hand the decision as to what action shall in each case be taken by the United States."

Mr. Reinsch said that "No doubt can be entertained that the right of labor to organize must be conceded in the fullest measure, as well as the right to be represented in such negotiations by men selected by labor itself. The use of the injunction in an attempt to prevent laborers from striking has been a grave abuse which should not be sanctioned."

He said further:

"I believe that the time has now come for an immediate return to a full application of all constitutional guarantees of liberty and to a full practice of representative government, and that whatever restrictions were necessary during the war should now cease.

"The farm loan system should be developed so as to make it a means of preserving the economic independence of our farming population. - - - The right to form co-operative organizations should be made absolutely clear.

"I would first point out the need of further extending the principle of financial decentralization embodied in the federal reserve act. - - - This salutary principle should be further applied to industry, commerce and agriculture so that a mobilized credit may be brought to the aid of all economic activity and that centralized domination of industrial life may be avoided."

TWO AIRPLANE VISITORS HERE ON SUNDAY CALL

General Rhinow of Minnesota National Guard and Major McChord of Regular Army Drop In

RHINOW PROMISES VISIT OF STATE AIR SQUADRON

First Militia Aerial Unit to Make its Initial Flight to La Crosse

TWO airplane callers from afar, one a scheduled visitor and the other just dropping in, were guests of La Crosse yesterday afternoon.

The expected guest was Adjutant General W. F. Rhinow, head of Minnesota's national guard, who came to La Crosse on the first lap of a flight to Washington on national guard business. He had two Gopher state flying officers with him.

The unexpected visitor was Major William C. McChord, army air service who flitted in casually from Chicago en route to Duluth to establish a government forest fire air patrol. He was flying a big blue Curtis Oriole plane, with a powerful racing motor that hiked it along at 160 miles an hour, and with him was one of the pilots here recently on the test flight of the air mail service.

Although Major McChord's arrival was unannounced he received a cordial welcome and entertainment from the La Crosse Aero Club, which was at the field to meet General Rhinow and his crew. The latter airmen were taken down-town to dinner by the local air enthusiasts, and left after staying an hour or so to gas and oil up their mechanical birds. General Rhinow went off southeast, planning to drop into Madison for the night. Major McChord pointed his big blue racer for Minneapolis and set off up the river at great speed.

Fly to Meet Rhinow

General Rhinow's plane was the first to arrive. He had been scheduled to get here at noon, but it was nearly 1 o'clock when he appeared, having been delayed in getting away from the Twin Cities. When the delay began to seem uncomfortable, Captain Norman Moll, well-known local flyer, took President Salzer of the Aero Club in his plane and started off up-river to look for the missing Minnesotans. They were in sight of Winona before the big De Haviland, carrying General Rhinow was spotted, speeding along over the bluffs on the Wisconsin side. The local plane swung over toward the visitor and raced them to Salzer Field, the De Haviland landing first by a few minutes.

General Rhinow was accompanied by Colonel W. C. Garis and Captain Ray Miller, the latter a pilot of the Minnesota observation squadron. This latter organization enjoys the unique distinction of being the only National Guard flying unit in the country. It has recently been organized in accordance with new war department regulations, and has its headquarters in the Twin Cities. Part of its flying equipment will be provided by the federal government, according to regulations. A number of well-known ex-service aviators who served in the world war are included in its flying personnel.

Squadron to Visit La Crosse

Incidentally, General Rhinow, upon his departure from La Crosse announced that the first maneuver flight made by the Minnesota squadron would be from Minneapolis to La Crosse and return. He was enthusiastic about the Salzer Field, for size and convenience, and declared that the air-journey from the Twin Cities to this place was ideal for practice formation work for the guard flyers. It was indicated that the militia flight will be staged some time this fall.

Major McChord, the regular army man headed for Duluth, left with the word that he would be back within a short time. He is planning to set up headquarters and lay out the fields and other necessities of a federal forest air patrol, which is expected to be of great service in checking forest fires and reducing the great annual loss from this source.

CLOSING OF BOSTON BANK STARTS RUN ON OTHER INSTITUTIONS

Banks Invoke Law Requiring Ninety Day Notice of Saving Withdrawals

SUPERNUMERARIES ORDERED DROPPED FROM PAYROLLS

Trust Company Directed to Drop Five Officials

BOSTON, Mass., Sept. 27—Several hundred persons gathered outside the offices of the Tremont Trust company here today when the doors were opened and lines quickly formed before the paying tellers' windows. After steady withdrawals for an hour with the crowds increasing, bank officials announced the law permitting a bank to require ninety days' notice for withdrawals from the savings departments would be invoked forthwith, for the protection of the depositors. The regulation would be withdrawn "as soon as the public calmed itself," it was announced.

"We have plenty of money to pay everybody," officials said, "and we were prepared to do so today but the crowd became so large it was impossible to handle them and we invoked the law for the protection of the depositors, not for our own protection."

The Fidelity Trust company today served notice it would take advantage of the law permitting it to require ninety days' notice of withdrawals from the saving department. It was stated this was done upon direction of State Bank Commissioner Allen. At his office this morning it was said this was optional with the bank.

Trust Company Closed

Several banks opened their doors with large amounts of ready cash as provision against a repetition of the runs which developed Saturday out of the closing of the Cosmopolitan Trust company.

Bank officials announced there was no connection between the Cosmopolitan, which was the fifth bank closed here within two months, and their institutions, and Bank Commissioner Allen declared no other banking institution was involved in the Cosmopolitan's troubles.

Nevertheless, a recurrence of the runs was anticipated, depositors having become alarmed and, in the case of the Tremont Trust company, having made constant withdrawals from early morning to nearly midnight Saturday.

The feeling of uncertainty over the banking situation was the subject of discussion by Governor Coolidge and bankers yesterday.

Must Drop Extra Officers

One effect of the close scrutiny of local banks was an order from Commissioner Allen to the Old South Trust company to drop from its payroll former Governor Samuel W. McCall and four other officials, including two vice presidents. As chairman of the board of directors Mr. McCall is drawing a salary of $8,000 a year. The object of the order is to reduce the bank's expenses. It being the opinion of the bank commissioner that the men he asked to have dropped are holding merely nominal positions. They may serve in their present capacities without salary, according to the order from the bank commissioner.

The Old South Trust company was closed a year ago, but reopened yesterday after having rehabilitated its finances without loss to depositors.

WINONA GAS CASE ARGUED IN COURT AT ST. PAUL

After nearly four weeks of hearings the Winona gas rate case was argued late last week before Special Master Howard S. Abbott at St. Paul, and some time within about a month or more a ruling may be expected. The city of Winona is given to Oct. 7th to file briefs and the Wisconsin Minnesota Light and Power Co., a week longer to reply. The evidence taken at the hearing is being transcribed, and after the submission of briefs Special Master Abbott will make his report and recommendations to Judge Wilbur F. Booth of the United States court. It will rest with Judge Booth to make the final order establishing the new gas rate for Winona.

At first the city contended for a rate of $1.45 a thousand cubic feet of gas and the company asked $2. A court order made after the first hearing set the rate temporarily at $1.65 a thousand.

The question at issue has been the fair value of the company's property.

After all the expert testimony of engineers and the arguments of Pierce Butler for the company and T. D. O'Brien and City Attorney Richard A. Randall for the city of Winona had been heard it appeared that the company's estimate of the value of its plant is $765,000, while the city of Winona places the fair value at from $230,000 to $250,000. The company experts based their estimates on the cost of reproduction of the plant with a slight deduction for depreciation while the city experts based their figures on what they consider the actual present value.

DISAPPROVE PLAN FOR CONFERENCE ON JAP QUESTION

State Officials Look With Disfavor on Plan for Joint Commission

WASHINGTON, Sept. 27—By The Associated Press. — Administration officials continue to decline to discuss any of the phases of the negotiations with Japan growing out of the proposed anti-Japanese land law in California, but the impression has gone out that a proposal from Tokio that the question be referred to a joint commission for solution would be unacceptable.

The conversations regarding the California law which have been going on between Ambassador Shidehara of Japan and state department officials are continuing and so far as learned the proposal for a joints commission has not been formally communicated to Washington by the Japanese government.

What progress, if any, has been made in the negotiations has not been disclosed. The attitude of the state department is described as one calculated to prevent the development of a feeling of alarm in the United States that might approach even approximately that which appears to be growing in Japan.

SEVENTY-ONE UNITS ALREADY MUSTERED INTO BADGER GUARD

Other Units Report Enlistments Nearly Up to the Required Quota

MADISON, Wis., Sept. 27—The muster in of the division headquarters troop of cavalry here makes seventy-one units now in the Wisconsin national guard, as follows: Thirty-five companies of infantry, seventeen troops of cavalry, two batteries of artillery, three machine gun companies, three regimental supply companies, two bands, one tank company, two sanitary detachments, three companies supply train, three companies ammunition train. Several other organizations are nearly ready for muster. Green Bay has a full quota for the first battery of heavy artillery, while Colonel Westfahl reports Milwaukee will have one short.

Racine reports it can furnish two as soon as the armory problem is solved. The ammunition train company at Osceola lacks only three men. Darlington lacks only one for an infantry company. Shawano is nearly ready with an infantry company, while Gilidtt and Wabeno, the two smallest places in the state with a combined infantry organization, are to separate and each has an infantry company of 100 men.

Rhinelander is working on the engineer train in addition to the infantry company there, while Sheboygan and Viroqua are raising two of the remaining troops of cavalry for the separate squadron, the cavalry regiment being complete excepting the headquarters and supply troops. Merrill and Stevens Point are to have batteries of light artillery.

NATIONAL SAFETY COUNCIL MEETING ON IN MILWAUKEE

Five-day Convention Opens Today; Hundred Cities Represented

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Sept. 27.—More than 100 municipalities throughout the country are represented at the ninth annual convention of the National Safety Council which opened a five-days meeting here today. The organization was launched in Milwaukee eight years ago and has grown from an original membership of fourteen to over 4,000.

Housed in the big auditorium where the convention is held is the greatest exhibit of safety devices that ever has been assembled under one roof.

Marcus A. Dow, general safety agent of the New York Central lines addressed the convention on "Safety Service" and Dr. Franklin C. Wells, medical director of the Equitable Life Assurance Society of United States, spoke of the topic "Human Conservation A National Necessity."

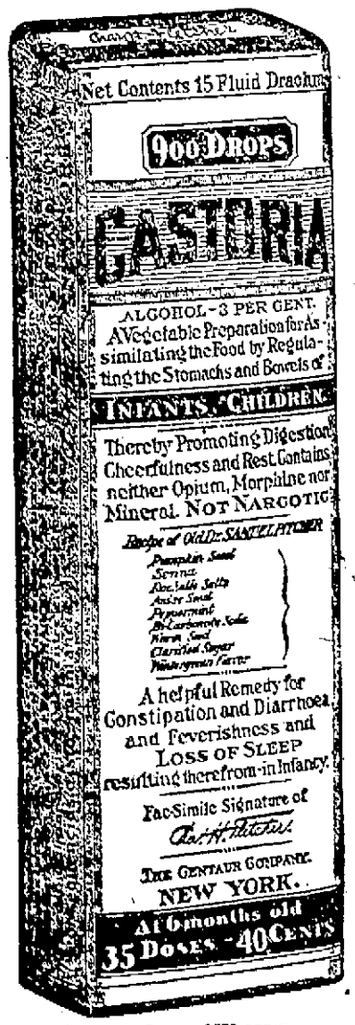
Some More Truths.

WOULD you use a steam shovel to move a pebble? Certainly not. Implements are built according to the work they have to do.

Would you use a grown-up's remedy for your baby's ills? Certainly not. Remedies are prepared according to the work THEY have to do.

All this is preliminary to reminding you that Fletcher's Castoria was sought out, found and is prepared solely as a remedy for Infants and Children. And let this be a warning against Substitutes, Counterfeits and the Just-as-good stuff that may be all right for you in all your strength, but dangerous for the little babe.

All the mother-love that lies within your heart cries out to you: Be true to Baby. And being true to Baby you will keep in the house remedies specially prepared for babies as you would a baby's food, hairbrush, toothbrush or sponge.



Exact Copy of Wrapper.

Children Cry For Fletcher's CASTORIA

Are You Prepared?

A doctor in the house all the time would be a good idea. Yet you can't afford to keep a doctor in the family to keep baby well or prevent sickness. But you can do almost the same thing by having at hand a bottle of Fletcher's Castoria, because it is a wonderful remedy for indigestion, colic, feverishness, fretfulness and all the other disorders that result from common ailments that babies have.

Fletcher's Castoria is perfectly safe to use. It is a harmless substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrups. Children cry for Fletcher's Castoria, and mothers recommend it because they have found it a comfort to children and a mother's friend.

If you love your baby, you know how sweet it is to be able to help baby when trouble comes. You cannot always call upon a doctor. But doctors have nothing but good to say of Fletcher's Castoria, because they know that it can only do good — that it can't do any harm — and they wouldn't want you to use for baby a remedy that you would use for yourself.

MOTHERS SHOULD READ THE BOOKLET THAT IS AROUND EVERY BOTTLE OF FLETCHER'S CASTORIA.

WAIT UPON THE LORD

I WILL wait upon the Lord, that hideth His face from the house of Jacob, and I will look to Him.—Isiah 8: 17. It is written in the prophets, and they shall all be taught of God.—John 6: 45.

THE FACTS

WHEN is a man a "republican"?

There is a difference between the private and the official relationship.

Probably in the sense of the private citizen a republican is one who in a general way supports republican principles and republican candidates in the main. There is no exact rule to which conformity is required.

But when one becomes officially a republican, by holding a party office, or by virtue of his nomination or election to public office under the republican label, his status is rather definitely fixed by party regulations and public law.

The form and substance of official republicanism is arrived at by definite processes in each campaign. The two factors are the ticket and the principles upon which the party asks the election of its ticket.

The ticket is selected by the legal processes of the primary election, and nomination upon that ticket implies a bond of support by each candidate so nominated for every other nominee who conforms to the requirements of public law and party regulation.

In Wisconsin the public law provides that the party principles shall be fixed upon by a platform convention composed of the party nominees and party officials, a majority of whom shall control upon any matter coming before the convention.

When a man stands for nomination under the republican label there exists a presumption that if nominated as a republican he will abide by the results of his party's primary and accept the principles outlined by his party's platform convention.

True, the candidate may have won his nomination upon a personal platform, but when nominated he merges into the official party. At that moment the organization succeeds the individual, and party principles as enunciated by the majority supersede individual opinion. The individual nominee's duty is done when he urges his personal views upon the party platform makers. What the convention enacts, not what the individual thinks, becomes the republicanism of the moment, and it is upon the adoption or rejection of the party's platform that the public is to decide.

The obligation of regularity is a moral one, and probably the more binding for that reason. Its basis is the fact that, no matter what personal reservations the candidate may utter, the voter is entitled to accept the appearance of his name upon the republican ticket as a guarantee that he stands upon the principles enunciated in the republican platform and supports fellow nominees who likewise subscribe to the party's platform and ticket. There is a place for candidates who dissent. It is on the independent ticket.

Indeed, the ticket and platform so arrived at become the official republicanism of the campaign, and a nominee who rejects the official party program, or any essential part of it, becomes a bolter and an independent, and misrepresents himself to the public if he continues to wear the party label.

The law establishes no authority to remove from a party ticket such candidates as bolt the platform or ticket, but it does not appear to tie the hands of the party's governing committee. There appears to exist no reason why in such cases the committee should remain a party to such misinformation as arises when candidates bearing the party name have deserted the principles or ticket legally established by party authority. It would seem to be not only the privilege, but the duty of the committee to include in its publicity, a frank statement of facts concerning secession on the part of candidates who seek to keep the party label without conforming to party principles and obligations. Public policy never forbids the truth.

Of course these simple facts apply to all parties alike, but they are sketched here for the consideration of Messrs. Blaine and Morgan, and the Wisconsin republican state central committee.

COLD WELCOME

PROBABLY no one in this country is either shocked or startled by the news that the Third Internationale—the propaganda department of Russian bolshevism—plans to set up an organization in this country and do what it may to assist our domestic discontents in the disruption of the republic. So long as bolshevism continues to keep a precarious upper hand in Russia, and there is no sign as yet to indicate that its dissolution is imminent, it is taken for granted that it will endeavor to proselyte with all the energy and means at its command in all of the countries of the world, and particularly in those countries, like this, in which there are fat good things for canny and superior bolsheviks who run the machine. Lenine himself has said that the Reds must seize the world quickly or go under. And, indeed, the plan to establish an American branch of the Red Internationale in this country seems, in some respects, to come late to the party. There is a bolshevik propaganda of sorts more or less native to our soil, and a considerable if not exactly formidable array of Bolshophiles, if one may coin a word.

However, calling Mr. Lenine to the stand again, the cause of bolshevism is not prospering in the United States. The Russian dictator recently declared himself well-satisfied with the progress of the propaganda in all foreign quarters except this country and Great Britain. One reason which is apparent to Americans is that here, at least, the propagandists seem to lack conviction of the new gospel. With isolated fanatical exceptions the communist revolution in America seems disinclined to pass out of the blah stage. Evidently Comrade Lenine believes that the comrades in the United States need a little efficiency work, such as might be supplied by a few hard-fisted commissars trained at the home office in the latest methods of terrorism. Analyzing on-the-spot information as to conditions in the light of the Moscow viewpoint, one is inclined to agree with the conclusion. The communist revolution in the United States is not likely to flourish along present lines. It is lyrical, rather than practical.

That the condition may be altered by the dispatch of some competent commissars, however, is by no means certain. Organized labor in America, which the dispatch says the branch organization of the Red Internationale plans to assist and direct in political and industrial strikes and other disturbances, has its own ideas and a competent leadership. It has a well-defined program, and is getting along with it rather to its satisfaction. One doubts that the calm assumption of strategic authority and command by self-appointed missionaries from abroad will be welcomed with open arms. Even in the groups whose principles are more nearly in affinity with the bolshevik doctrine, such as the socialist party, the communists and the I. W. W. there are American leaders and American purposes and methods not lightly to be subordinated to orders from Moscow. The efficiency boys from Asia may find it rough going, even among the comrades.

Last but perhaps not least, there is the government and the run of citizenship in this republic to be reckoned with. Comrade Lenine will do well to send the pick of his stable. Uncle Sam is no "set-up" like the detested, rotten bureaucracy of the Romanoffs, ready to topple at a push. He is a hale and vigorous champion, skilled in foot-work and headwork and with a punch in both hands. Meeting him in a finish fight is no job for a "pork-and-beaner".

WHEN THE OWL HOOTS

BY R. RAY BAKER

"Lucile, don't you think this affair with young Hazard has gone far enough—in fact, too far?"

Lucile's rather pert face took on a resentful, haughty expression.

"No, it hasn't!" she snapped, and then modified her tone, for she was addressing her father, and Lucile had not been brought up to snap at her father. "Don't you understand, father, that I care for Billy Hazard more than anybody else in the whole world—except you?"

The lines of her fathers face—not deep lines, but distinctly visible ones—gathered themselves into a stern look.

"I have told you repeatedly," he said, "that I want the affair to end. I have no use for Billy or any of his family. I repeat once more, I want this affair to end."

Lucile without replying, flounced from the house. She was biting her lip hard to keep harsh words in, and tears welled in her attractive gray eyes. She followed a path into the woods at the back of her home, and when she was safe in the sanctuary of the foliage the tears burst forth.

"All right, all right," she sobbed. "The affair will end—but not the way you want it to. Just wait—wait till I tell Billy, and that's going to be soon."

She continued on the path, wiping away the tears with a handkerchief, and presently came to a clearing, where a bench stretched between two trees. A young man, who at first glance possessed a very youthful face but grew older as you looked at it, was seated on a bench, in a waiting attitude.

"Billy!" cried Lucile, and he stood up smiling; but the smile vanished when he saw she had been crying.

"What's the matter?" he asked solicitously, and passed an arm around her waist and led her to the bench, where once more the flood gates were broken down and with her head on Billy's shoulder she cried without restraint.

"It's father," she said finally gaining composure. "I just had a set-to with him. He's forbidden me again to keep up this affair with you, as he calls it. What'll we do?"

Billy looked furious.

"I just had the same experience with mother," he said. "She told me I had to stop it. She doesn't like your father; does she, Lucile?"

"Isn't it hard," observed Lucile, "that just when we have come to think so much of each other our parents should object? When we didn't really think seriously about getting married they used to encourage us to care. Isn't that the way things go, though? Parents are so unreasonable and hard to manage. But what'll we do?"

"Yes, it's hard," he agreed, with an air of resignation, which however, changed quickly to one of determination. "What'll we do, did you say? I'll tell you what we'll do!"

His eyes were blazing.

"I'll tell you what we'll do," and gradually his voice sank to a whisper, while he looked around the glen as though expecting to discern spies peeping from behind trees. "I'll tell you what we'll o. We'll elope, that's what."

Her eyes grew big.

"Listen," he went on. "It's all arranged for me to go to Cincinnati tomorrow night. You know that. I have a good job in an insurance office there. What we'll do is to leave tonight, both of us. We'll get Seth Hanley to drive us to Teachout in his flivver, and there we'll wake up some person and get married, and catch the train for Cincinnati. We'll bring the affair to an end, that's what."

The startled expression on Lucile's face had subsided and one of enthusiasm had taken its place.

"All right, it's a go," she said, then added dolefully: "But how? I could never pass father's room at night without waking him."

"Leave it to me," he retorted confidently. "You be ready, and when you hear an owl hoot twice look out your window. Just leave the details to me."

It was a dark night.

With stealthy step a slim figure slipped from the woods into the back yard and looked about. A twig snapped and the figure stood motionless. Presently it laughed softly.

"Could things be more convenient?" he whispered, and crept to the side of the building that had once been a barn. A ladder leaned against the building.

The figure seized the ladder and carried it to the house, letting one end rest under a window from which shone a feeble light.

Then he paused and crouched beneath the ladder, while two hoots of an owl, sounded in rapid succession. There was a slight noise at the window and another slim figure looked out. The first one mounted the ladder cautiously and embraced the second.

He retreated to the ground and the other followed. They ran from the yard to a road, where a silent flivver lurked, no lights showing. A gangling youth leaped from the front seat, went around in front, gave the crank a spin, and the motor roared. The newcomers settled in the tonneau and the flivver leaped away in the night.

Lucile's father leaped from bed, put on slippers and hurried into his daughter's room. He looked out the window and an exclamation escaped him. He hustled back to his own room, dressed quickly, went down stairs and let himself out the back door.

To the side of the house he went and stood for a moment surveying the ladder. Then he set out with rapid strides along the path into the woods. Soon he reached the Hazard back yard and without hesitation approached the kitchen door. A faint light was shining from the kitchen.

He rapped on the door and it opened almost immediately. Billy Hazard's mother appeared.

"It's all right," he whispered. "They did it although I really didn't expect it till tomorrow night. I left the ladder for him and he made use of it. By this time they're on their way to Cincinnati."

"Everything worked just as we had planned," she returned. "It was the only way to have our desires fulfilled. They're both so stubborn that they'd have left each other alone if we had urged them to marry. I guess its human nature."

He turned as if to go, but hesitated.

"Our children are going to be happy, I know," he declared. "I wonder if I dare say what I am thinging? It's not about them, either."

"I never thought you a coward," she said softly.

He came closer.

It's just this. I've been loving you all this time, and I've been wishing we might elope, too. Life will be so lonely now, with Lucile gone, and it will be lonely for you, too, without Billy."

She stood and looked into the dark woods, as silent as they were. Then she gave a sigh, which meant—well, it might have meant almost anything.

"I confess I feel the same," she said. "We can elope, too, if you say so; only there's nobody to elope from."

"We'll arrange the details later," he suggested. "Leave them to me," and he took her in his arms.

Just then the big full moon peeped out from behind a cloud and somewhere deep in the woods an owl hooted—twice.

Weaning the Baby

A baby should not be fed at the breast after one year. At that age he needs a more solid food to make him grow strong.

A baby should be weaned gradually, and the milk at first should be only half the strength of the formula used for a normal child of the same age. Then the milk should be gradually increased in strength.

Weaning may usually begin at about the ninth month, by giving baby one feeding of cow's milk, using two parts milk to one part water. If he digests this well, the amount of water can be decreased gradually until at 10 or 11 months he may be taking whole milk. The number of milk feedings can be slowly increased as the breast feedings are decreased, until at one year of age the baby is weaned entirely. A baby weaned at nine or ten months may be taught to take milk from a cup.

Increase in the baby's diet must be made with caution, especially during the summer. It is better to keep the baby on a low diet than to upset his digestion by over-feeding.

A baby one year of age in July should not be weaned during the hot months if he is doing well.

Infants should be weaned when the mothers are suffering from a disease which they might transmit to the child, such as typhoid fever and tuberculosis; or if the mother is suffering from some disease which might be aggravated by nursing, such as Bright's disease, tuberculosis and acute pneumonia. The infant should likewise be weaned if the mother becomes pregnant or if she is suffering from inflammation of the breast.

Wrinkles

Q. I am only 25 years old, and have wrinkles in my cheeks. I have tried the best cream to remove them, but I can't. What shall I do? Can you give me the address of a doctor who can help me?

A. The application of creams will probably not help your wrinkles, though facial massage and the application of hot and cold water alternately, supplanted by brisk rubbing with a towel, may improve the general tone of the parts. If you are otherwise well, you will do well to forget your wrinkles. A smiling, cheerful countenance is an effective antidote.

ACCIDENT WITH RED-HOT STOVE SHOWS SECRET OF MANUFACTURING RUBBER

(A True Story of Science)

"A. Goodyear & Sons, Hardware." This sign hung above a dingy little store in Philadelphia in 1834.

One day Charles Goodyear, a younger member of the firm, went to New York and, when there, took a notion to buy an India rubber life preserver made by the Roxbury Co.

At that time fortunes had been lost in following the lure of the sap of the India rubber tree. One inventor and manufacturer after another had tried to succeed in the business, but none had done it. For, try as hard as they might, no inventors had been able to keep rubber from being affected by the seasons. Goodyear was fascinated with the desire to make rubber really useful. He began to experiment with his life preserver.

Charles Goodyear had made up his mind to solve a problem in chemistry that the ablest chemists had failed on. He knew no chemistry, he had very little education, and, on top of it all, failure of some banks forced his firm into bankruptcy. He was imprisoned for debt.

For five years he suffered and struggled, in and out of jail. The only result was to make him more determined to win. His friends called him "crazy." He thought, spelt, dreamed and wore rubber. He was a walking advertisement. He wore a rubber cap, coat and rubber shoes of his own making.

Then, one day accident came to his rescue. He was mixing sulphur with rubber gum. Some of it happened to fall on a red-hot stove. To his surprise and delight, its character was changed by the heat. It would not melt. He tried and tested it in every way he could think of, but with the same result. He was a victor! The secret was his!

Yet success did not come quickly. Six years more of hardships were ahead. During that time Goodyear took out sixty patents. He was protected in America, but in England and France others took and worked his ideas.

He never made a fortune and he died in 1860, but even before his death, 60,000 people were engaged in the rubber business. Since then cities have arisen around the factories that he made possible.

Notebook "Morgues"

"Dad, what is a newspaper 'morgue'?"

"It's like a big notebook, son, it's the place where they keep things they may want to refer to later. There are dozens of drawers with clippings and pictures filed away in order. Whenever a congressman, or actress, or general, or explorer does anything, the editor can go into the morgue in a minute and find there his picture to print."

"That's more than I can do with my notebook. Sometimes I look half an hour for something that I know is there and then can't find it."

"Yes, notebooks aren't a whole lot of good unless you have some system for entering notes.

"Take a hunch from a newspaper morgue. Arrange everything by subject. I don't mean that you have just one subject, "History." Subdivide it. Take a look at your textbook to see just how the divisions into chapters are made. Then work out a system of your own. It isn't hard, but you do have to think a little to do it.

"Cut little squares of stiff, heavy paper and paste them on the edges of the notebook leaves, making labels that tell you just where to turn for anything you want."

"Sure, Dad, I can do it. The trouble is I never thought anything about it before."

HARVEY JOHNSON EARNS $315.00 DURING SUMMER WORKING IN HIS GARDEN

(True Story)

Beans and peas and tomatoes bring money these days.

We make this statement on the authority of Harvey Johnson of Hibbing, Minn., who is putting in his claim to the championship of American boy gardeners.

During the past summer, Raymond has spent all his time in two vacant lots across the street from his home. So successful has he been, and so luxuriant are his gardens that he has been able to clear $315.00 from the sale of his vegetables during the past summer.

He has a push cart, and early each morning, delivers vegetables to his customers himself. The rest of the day he spends in the garden.

GIRLHOOD STORIES OF FAMOUS WOMEN

Sophie Wright

"Day School for Girls," announced a sign which was tacked on the door of a tiny cottage in a southern village.

Let us look inside and see the school-mistress. Instead of a grown-up person, we see a small, crippled girl in a short dress, with two pigtails down her back. She went out to canvass for pupils and had secured enough to start the school which has since become the famous "Sophie Wright School for Girls."

Her school grew. When she was older she opened a free night school for the men and boys of New Orleans. She also made possible the "New Orleans Home for Crippled Children."

Sophie Wright was one of the foremost women of the south. She helped organize every charitable institution in the vicinity of New Orleans.

U. S. DENIES ALIEN PROPERTY WILL BE RETURNED TO OWNERS

Alien Property Custodian Declares Return Will be Made Only on Congress Order

RETURN PROPERTY OF WOMEN WHO MARRIED FOREIGNERS

Other Property Held Subject to Direction of Congress

WASHINGTON, D. C.—The American government is restoring between $100,000,000 and $150,000,000 of alien enemy property to American women who before the war lost their citizenship by marrying Germans, Austrians or other alien enemies. These payments have been in progress for some time, and the return of property in this particular category is being made by Francis P. Garvan, the alien property custodian as rapidly as the claims can be handled by his office in conjunction with the department of justice and the treasury department.

This is being done by authority of congress, granted in the Nelson amendment to the trading with the enemy act. This vested President Wilson with authority to direct the return of certain particular classes of alien enemy property that had been seized during the war.

Controlled by Congress

Only this particular kind of alien property can legally be returned by the American government at the present time and until further directions are given by congress the rest of the alien enemy property not covered by the amendment of June 5, 1920, will be held subject to disposition as directed by congress. The value of the alien enemy property seized during the war is about $502,000,000.

These facts were obtained Sunday night from government officials when their attention was called to a Paris cablegram printed in a New York newspaper Sunday morning in which the Brussels correspondent of the Intransigeant said he had been assured by a high German personage at the financial conference being held in Brussels that the American government would "in a few days" restore to Germany all the property in the United States sequestered from them during the war, amounting to about $800,000,00.

No Foundation Claim

Commenting on this dispatch, officials said there was no foundation for the assertion that German property was going to be turned over at any time without express direction from congress. It was pointed out that the trading with the enemy act expressly provides that alien enemy property taken over by the alien property custodian should be held pending orders from congress as to its disposition.

U. S. BATTLESHIPS TIED UP BY FOG

NEW YORK, Sept. 27—More than twenty-five large steamships, including all the battleships of the Atlantic fleet, were anchored in the outer harbor early today, unable to grope their way through the dense fog that has enveloped this vicinity since Friday night.

La Savoie, which had on board distinguished French and British guests to the convention of the American Legion at Cleveland, arrived at Quarantine this morning. Heading the French delegation is General Marie Emile Fayolle, a personal representative of Marshal Foch.

La Savoie was one of the four ships to make their way through the fog.

The true name of Henry Wilson, elected vice president of the United States in 1872, was Jeremiah J. Colbaith.

The Hair-Destroying Curling Iron Passes

The heated iron makes the hair dry and parched looking, burns off the ends, giving a most untidy appearance. You who have learned this from experience will be glad to hear of a very simple method which is open to none of the objections referred to and which gives better results than the curling iron.

Just get a few ounces of plain liquid silmerine at your druggist's and apply a little with a clean tooth brush before doing up the hair, drawing the brush down one strand at a time from root to tip. In three hours hair will be as beautifully wavy and curly as though Mother Nature did it, and it will be quite manageable, no matter what style of coiffure you adopt. The effect will be much prettier than if you used a waving iron, will last much longer, and the health of your hair will not suffer. Silmerine is not sticky or greasy, but is quite pleasant to use.

COCHRANE WOMAN SHOOTS HERSELF

Desired to Be "Out of the Way" and Fires Shotgun Charge Into Her Body

Mrs. Dan. Herold, 30 years old, of Cochrane is in a critical condition at the Winona General hospital today with a gaping shotgun wound in her chest as a result of an attempt at suicide here Thursday. The woman locked herself in her room and fired the discharge point blank into her body. She has a chance to recover, according to the attending physician, but her condition is not such as to warrant great hopes.

The woman when found stated, according to reports, that she shot herself because she desired to be "out of the way." It was said here that she had at one time been in the state hospital at Mendota, Wis., after she had been examined as to her sanity.

Her husband is a business man of this place. They have two small children.

La Crosse Folks at University

Although no official figures are available on university attendance as yet, it appears from unofficial sources that the enrollment will be about as large as it was last year, with a slight increase for the year possible because of the record breaking summer session just completed.

The La Crosse delegation at Madison numbers about the same as it did last fall. Although there were close to a score of graduates, new students have filled this gap in numbers.

Coach Otto Endres of the Madison high school has started inter-class football at the institution in addition to handling the regular squad.

Although competition for the band this year is stronger than ever with prospects of the university having the highest class band in a number of years, Melvin Pierce of La Crosse is assured of his job at the bass drum which he handled in a capable manner last year. The bass drum in the second band is handled by Troy Thompson, a former La Crosse normal student.

Rowdy Elliot, former La Crosse normal student, has his job at right half on the varsity cinched. Elliott is in good standing scholastically this year and will be developed as one of the strongest offensive men on the team.

Erickson, a former La Crosse man who played on the normal school team a number of years ago, is also a member of the varsity squad but has not been sent into scrimmage as yet.

Joe Liskovec, track man who has been training during the summer in preparation for making an attempt at a guard's job with the varsity, was prevented from reporting just prior to the opening of the practice season because of parental objection.

Arthur Nelson, La Crosse, had charge of the sophomore commission of the Y. M. C. A. which met most of the new incoming students at the trains and saw to it that they were housed. Nelson also has charge of the preparation of the Y. M. C. A. handbook of information for next year. He spent the last week end in La Crosse on business.

Ery Blatter is again managing the bachelor apartments at the university.

Arne Gorder who graduated last June is back at school doing some instructing in the medical school in addition to carrying some graduate work.

Roger Lueck is again instructing in chemistry while working on his Master's degree.

Cy Minshall, La Crosse high school graduate, has bought out a confectionery store near the university which he is running while taking full work in the school of commerce.

W. E. Walker is handling all advertising for Olson & Veerhusen, Hart Schaffner & Marx account in Madison, and covering the university and Wisconsin sports for the Wisconsin State Journal in addition to carrying full work in the school of commerce from which he will graduate at the end of this semester.

Herbert Wheaton and Adolph Youngberg, university students, returned to school on the last day of registration from their trip about the state which occupied the entire summer. They were engaged in making geological surveys for one of the state commissions.

The first football game of the season occurs next Saturday, a preliminary game with Lawrence college at Madison.

Catfish That Climb

Columbia has a species of catfish which has achieved a reputation for its climbing proclivities. One of these was watched by a naturalist and it progressed a distance of eighteen feet in half an hour making its way over a steep rock over which a stream of water was passing in the opposite direction. This is accomplished by means of a suction apparatus. There are other fish with this accomplishment in the Himalayas which have no suction apparatus but which make their way against the current and up steep water ways adhering to the rocks by their smooth ventral skin and enlarged lips.

It was expected the nominee would make many short speeches in addition to the three formal addresses on his three-day program.

Where the Men Wear Veils

Among the wild Tauregs of the Tripoli Desert, woman's sway is absolute. The Taureg woman shows her face to the world; it is the men who go coyly veiled.

Descent is traced entirely through the female line. To obtain a wife a man has to pay a price that, in view of the Taureg standard of wealth, is nothing less than sheer profiteering. Consequently the young bloods are forced to join the rhazzies or robbing raids, which have destroyed the trans-Saharan trade, that they may appease the rapacity of their lady loves.

SPIRITUAL HOUSE GREAT INFLUENCE IN FAMILY LIFE

Each Denomination Must Develop Peculiar Type of Strength Says Rowlison

IMPRESSIVE SERMON GIVEN AT CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH

Points Out the Supreme Goal of Human Achievement

"A church finds its true greatness in developing a peculiar type of culture and strength, not to enjoy supercilious superiority and put on airs among its fellows, but to be of the highest and completest service to religion and to all human interests," said Rev. C. C. Rowlinson in an impressive sermon on "A Spiritual House" at the First Congregational church Sunday morning.

The text was: "Ye also, as living stones, are built up a spiritual house, a holy priesthood, to offer up spiritual sacrifices, acceptable to God by Jesus Christ." I. Peter 2:5.

Rev. Rowlinson said in part:

"Dr. Oliver Wendell Holmes, upon being asked by a lady when she should begin the education of her son, replied, 'A hundred years before he is born, at least.' Dr. Booker T. Washington, the noted colored educator, once said from this pulpit, that while some prided themselves in their ancestry, there are others whose glory would have to be in becoming ancestors.

Build a Mighty House

"The establishment of a house has been one of the highest and most important ambitions of the human race. Some such houses have vaunted with ambition, and we are perfectly willing to see the House of Hapsburg and the House of Hohenzollern disappear from their place of authority in Europe. But to build a mighty house that will fulfil a divine destiny of high service to humanity, is one of the permanent ways by which the human race shall rise.

"In these days when democracy is being defined as mere leveling and flattening, mere reduction of all to a common plane of uninteresting mediocrity, it is important that we remember how differently the real progress of the world has been made. Especially is it important for us Americans to remember that our republic owes its ideals and very existence to certain great houses whose ambition is to rise to the highest stages of education and culture, not that they shall thereby be able to command the fealty and submission of their fellows, but that they may most fully serve the common good.

"No one can understand American history who is not familiar with the story of the Brewsters and the Bradfords, the Winthrops and Conants, in New England, and many other equally notable families in other of the colonies. To understand our republican institutions one must know the Adams family, of Quincy, Mass., and the Lees of Virginia, not to mention the Washingtons and many other of the really great houses of this new country. They made America great.

"The principle here illustrated is fully recognized in the development of our religion. Abraham believed himself called of God to establish a house which was to have a peculiar and high destiny. This expectation was repeated in Isaac and Jacob. Indeed, there is no more familiar name for the Hebrew people than "The House of Israel." As with so many other great houses, two lines of belief and expectation stirred the minds of the leaders. One was that this highly favored and closely united family was divinely called to receive special favors. This was manifest especially among those with political ambitions, and is quite alive in the hearts of a large number of that family or race today. The other belief, the one that was really religious and that gave the nation its really unique place in the world, was that of the great prophets, who believed that the house of Israel was so divinely honored in order that they might be of unique service to the whole race of men. They were called to be a phophetic nation for all the world.

"In other words, the reason why Israel has a supreme place in the world's life is that through them there came to the world a special revelation of the nature and will of God. But her greatest prophet, with other great leaders of his day, became convinced that Israel's ambition to rule the world politically foiled his capacity for uniquely revealing the divine nature in the unfolding progress of mankind. He therefore forsook the attempt to limit the knowledge of God to a family, and recognized a spiritual family made up of all whose kin with him, 'For whosoever shall do the will of my Father in heaven, the same is my brother and sister and mother.' Matt. 12:50.

"It is perfectly right to say that Jesus Christ is the founder of our religion and that the Apostle Paul was the great master builder. Both were Jews. But both conceived a spiritual house or family or race, that was not of flesh, but of spiritual lineage and kinship. Jesus saw, as none others have ever seen, the essential nature of religion as love to God and love to man, irrespective of all racial, cultural or geographical boundaries, and called into his chosen circle all who recognized their spiritual kinship with himself. Paul made this interpretation of religion practical by organizing groups of Jews and Gentiles alike who caught the vision of such a household. The true spiritual house is not made up of any racial, political or sectarian group, but is made up of all of every latitude and clime who are the spiritual fellows of Jesus Christ. 'Where two or three are gathered togethered in my name, there am I in the midst.' As the Pilgrim Fathers held, wherever there is such a group, anywhere in all the world, there is the spiritual house, or true church of God.

"It is of the first importance for every church group to think of itself as such a house. The First Congregational church of La Crosse needs to think of itself as such a house. We are a chosen people, as every group of true disciples of Christ are chosen to show forth the praises of him who hath called us out of darkness into his marvelous light.

"1. Such a conviction in the heart of the church gives it dignity and type. There is always something distinctive about an old, disciplined and cultured family, by which you recognize its members. Education is taken for granted. Refinement, beauty and charm are to be expected. Sometimes families lacking the true greatness of inherent spirituality become supercilious. And how often the newly rich seek to purchase with money that which can be attained only by the long and severe discipline of generations of genuine living!

"So the true spiritual family has its years of discipline and growth before it is of a high order. Our church is significant as inheriting the culture and spirit of the great New England lineage. It is great because of the embodiment of this heritage in the splendid characters of a generation gone by in this particular congregation. Their spirit still breathes among these rafters, and palpitates in our hearts, and it is largely because of our heritage that there is any greatness at all here.

"2. A church finds its true greatness in developing a peculiar type of culture and strength, not to enjoy supercilitious superiority and put on airs among its fellows, but to be of the highest and completest service to religion and to all human interests. It lives not for itself, however much it praises its own type, but for others—for the common good.

Is Great Influence

"3. We call families 'houses' because they are established in a house. They have a local habitation and a name. Here is one of the supreme influences in human development. The ambition of every family to own its own home is fundamental to the permanency of any high cultural values and has an importance in a democracy quite beyond exaggeration. The present tendencies to break up homes, to yield to the ease of not rearing children, to shift here and there continuously, to give up the simple home life out of which all truly great Americans, at least have come, is one of the greatest perils contronting our civilization.

"One reason why we must so strenuously oppose the present influence of the automobile, the moving picture shows, and the apartment houses is that they will all tend to break up the old family life. This is a chief reason why the most thoughtful oppose socialism. These all encourage the ease of a common level and the low luxury of self-indulgence, as over against the hard tasks of building a family of great servants to mankind, able to endure hardness, and seeking no other gain but that of a consciousness that they have been true to divine ideals.

"In like manner the true church and household of faith will seek to have a dignified house of worship, a building that typifies the spiritual ideals of its unique people. It too will become rooted in the soil, will have its residence for its minister as a feature of its 'plant.' And as the true family has its contiguous and frequent occasions when the household assemble, in dignified and orderly manner—at meal time, at bed-time, in the morning—so will the spiritual household have its occasions when all its members meet in the family group, in dignified and stately expression of their fellowship one with onther in the house of their common head and father. Whoever abstains from such a service breaks up, to that extent, the continuity and significance of the spiritual nature of the church. It is as impious as for one to be late to dinner. It is a denial of the high heritage of the past that is freely offered in this divine household. It is a slap in the face to those splendid progenitors whom we profess to honor. It is the prodigal's attitude toward the loving solicitude of the home.

All Little Children

"As in every true household, so the spiritual house wich our Lord is building around his great name is full of little children. They are born into it and are to be always at home in it. Indeed except we all become as little children we cannot ourselves enter this true home of the soul. Thus the children absorb the culture and the grace of this dwelling of the spirit.

"And every such home will most cordially welcome every stranger of like spiritual nature. Every really great house is filled with 'company.' That great home lover, Mark Twain, never felt that his household was complete without guests. Surely no spiritual house is complete without many of those who are not of blood lineage, but kindred of the spirit truly, at home in our midst.

"To build a spiritual house, to become royal priests, to attain the standards of a holy nation, to become a peculiar people in the high excellencies of divine service, to accomplish these things is to attain the supreme goal of human achievement."

CHARGE FOUL MEANS TO PREVENT YANKS FROM TAKING RACE

Officials of American Aero Clubs Demand Change in Rules for Bennet Cup Race

THREE PLANES CHOSEN TO REPRESENT THE U. S.

American Aviator Hurt in Practice Flight

NEW YORK, Sept. 27—Demand that the officials in charge of the Gordon Bennett international airplane race to start tomorrow at Etampes, France, designate another landing field and modify rules of the event, were made today in cable messages sent to Colonel Thompson, in charge of the American entries by Captain Claude R. Collins, president of the Aviators club of Pennsylvania, and C. Anderson Wright, president of the Aero club of Texas. They asserted "only a miracle can save the pilots of the American planes from death or injuries even more serious than sustained by Roland Rohlfs yesterday," if the changes are not made.

"I have no hesitancy in saying," said Captain Rollins, "that for some weeks it has been believed that foul means were being taken by foreign entrants to keep America from lifting the trophy."

It is contended the Etampes field is so rough American planes cannot fly from it successfully.

U. S. Flyer Hurt

ETAMPES France Sept. 27—By the Associated Press—Roland Rohlfs, one of the American entrants for the James Gordon Bennett international aviation cup, to be raced for here Tuesday, crashed to the ground while flying in his Texas Wildcat airplane in practice last evening and was seriously injured.

PARIS, Sept. 27—The Aero club committee, which is composed of Jefferson Thompson, Cortland Bishop, Sydney S. Veit and Vincent Bertrand has eliminated one of the two Cox airplanes from the Gordon Bennett cup race, leaving Schroeder's army plane, Rhinehart's Wright biplane, and either of the Cox machines which the owner selects to represent the United States. It is expected that Mr. Cox will nominate his wife's monoplane, with Coombs as pilot.

FRESH OUTBREAK OF HOG CHOLERA REPORTED HERE

Dread Rural Disease Raging in State Says State Department

Fresh outbreaks of hog cholera near West Salem in La Crosse county have been reported to the state board of agriculture. The board reports that the dread disease is also reported in Trempealeau county near Galesville; Grant and Crawford counties near Boscobel; St. Croix county, near New Richmond; Dodge county, near Beaver Dam and Juneau; Dane county, near Sun Prairie; Sheboygan county, near Sheboygan Falls and Kenosha county, near Kenosha.

Veterinarians of the department of agriculture and local veterinarians in all infected localities are endeavoring to check losses in infected herds and prevent a spread of the disease to healthy herds. As the success of these efforts must be measured by the cooperation which the department receives from farmers and breeders the following warning note is sounded to breeders in all infected districts, but is particularly directed to La Crosse and Trempealeau counties:

"Don't put your faith in irresponsible vendors of improved hog remedies. Accept the assurance of all responsible authorities, and of all progressive experienced swine breeders, that there is no cure for hog cholera, and that there is no preventative for it except hog cholera serum, properly prepared and properly administered."

TEMPERANCE LEADER SCORES DRY RECORDS OF BOTH CANDIDATES

Harding and Cox Both Working Their Records Overtime Says Womens' Director

CHICAGO, Ill., Sept. 27.—The prohibition party sees no difference in the records and attitude of Senator Harding and Governor Cox on the prohibition question, Mrs. Margaret Wintringer, director of the women's campaign of the prohibition party, announced today.

"The prohibition party has made no discrimination in the questioning of candidates," Mrs. Wintringer's statement says. "We have put the identical questions and proposals to both candidates.

"While Mr. Harding is overworking his senatorial temperance record, which is two dry votes against thirty for wet measures, Mr. Cox is using the Sunday closing of saloons in one lone city as a smoke screen to disguise the fact that at the time saloons were running wide open on Sunday in other cities of the state.

"Mr. Harding voted for the prohibition act, but he made a speech at the time saying he did not believe in prohibition, and it was he who introduced the rider which provided that the amendment must be ratified within six years, a measure which the wets then hoped would defeat ratification. Mr. Harding's vote for the Volstead act was cast after he had been assured that enough votes were recorded to carry the measure.

"Nothing short of a clear cut declaration pledging specifically the use of his legislative power as president to prevent a change in the Volstead act would, in our opinion entitle either candidate to dry support."

WINONA WEDDINGS FAILURE DIVORCE RECORDS INDICATE

Two of Three Marital Blowups Had Inception in Up-River City

With rare exceptions, Winona weddings involving La Crosse couples, are failures.

Circuit Judge E. C. Higbee, who runs the local divorce mills has often commented on the fact and today two out of three applications for divorce are from couples who journeyed up-river to get their start as one.

Leona W. Mason, through her attorney James Thompson, has sued for a divorce from Fred G. Mason, alleging cruel and inhuman treatment and desertion since January, 1920. They were married at Winona on May 25, 1918.

Luther Wilson, who married Eleanor at Winona on January 12, 1918, through attorneys Mahoney & Schubert, seeks a divorce alleging desertion on August 26, 1919.

The one La Crosse divorce case is that of Avis Meinert against William Meinert. Avis maintains in her complaint, which was filed this morning by Attorneys Cowie & Hale, that she married Meinert August 6, 1919 at La Crosse and that soon after he commenced a course of cruel and inhuman treatment. She alleges she started a divorce action but dropped it upon his promise to be good to her. She alleges he failed to keep his word and now wants a divorce and the use of her maiden name which was Avis Getman.

SUGAR MARKET WEAK

NEW YORK, Sept. 27—The sugar market was weak this morning. Three leading refiners reduced their prices half a cent a pound to fourteen cents for fine granulated. This was done in line with the unsettled feeling in other commodity markets and the increased offerings in raws, where it appeared as if holders were most anxious to make sales.

Mind and Body Cured by Dr. Evenson's Treatment of the Eyes

One of the most remarkable eye cases ever recorded in La Crosse was brought to public attention recently through the experience of a little girl in the public schools.

PEEVISH AND DULL

Lizzy Cunningham, the ten-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. Cunningham, of 1119 South Fourteenth street, is a pupil in the public schools. She was one of those "backward" girls, dull and peevish, and subject to constant headaches that had so effected her mentally as to render her, in the opinion of her physician, "stupid."

CROSS EYES THE CAUSE

Among her afflictions was a pronounced case of crossed eyes. In earlier childhood her eyes had appeared to be normal, but the cross appeared and grew more pronounced until it made her appearance far from pleasing.

DR. EVENSON SEEN

About two months ago Lizzie Cunningham was taken to Dr. Evenson's office for treatment. He found the child suffering from errors of refraction, which he proceeded to treat without medicine or the knife, relying wholly upon correcting the refraction by the use of scientifically fitted glasses.

QUICK RESULTS

The results came fast and satisfactory. The two pictures accompanying show the change of the child's appearance, and indicate clearly the corrective influence of the lenses.

But the improvement was general in its nature. The child became as bright as the smartest in her classes; her headaches and her "crossness" gave way to genial good nature. Her teacher, who became greatly interested in the case, is said to have kept a diary concerning it, and the changed conditions are pronounced by her to be wonderful. Lizzy's eyes are straightened, and her mind is healthy and her temperament is sweet and cheerful. The "sulky cross patch" has given way to the natural pleasantness and intelligence of the little girl.

DR. EVENSON TALKS

When interviewed concerning the cure, Dr. Evenson smiled and said: "One of my most interesting cases. It is not extraordnary, only that the attention paid the case brought it to public attention. I have cured worse cases, but they never became known to the public. I am sure the little girl has been restored to complete health both mentally and physically, and her eyes are as good as anybody's now. This is shown by the letter and affidavit I received from her parents, which you will find in the show case there."

The letter and affidavit follows:

The Affidavit

La Crosse, Wis., March 12th '06.

Dr. H. C. Evenson,
La Crosse, Wis.

Dear Doctor:

We wish to state that you have straightened our daughter Lizzie's eyes with the glasses you fitted and did so without the use of medicine or surgery. She has better sight, looks better, is brighter at school and has not had a headache since she wore your glasses, though she suffered with a constant headache prior to wearing the glasses. We thank you for the attention given her and for saving us the expense of an operation. We hope other parents will be fortunate enough to receive your services.

Yours very truly,
MRS. W. CUNNINGHAM.

State of Wisconsin, La Crosse County.

Be it remembered that on the 21st day of March, A. D. 1906, personally came before me the above named Mrs. W. Cunningham, to me known to be the person who executed the above testimony.

J. L. HALIK, Notary Public.
La Crosse County, Wis.

My commission expires Feb. 23, 1908. (Seal)

The Screen

AT THE THEATERS TODAY

Rivoli—"Don't Ever Marry," a Marshall Neilan production.

Majestic—Constance Binney in "39 East."

Bijou—Jack Pickford in "A Double Dyed Deceiver."

Casino—Gladys Brockwell in "Rose of Nome."

Rialto—"An Adventure in Hearts" with Robert Warwick.

Strand—Anne Cornwall in "The Girl in the Rain."

Rivoli

When three women claim one man for a husband, it is bound to create trouble. This is the situation that arises in "Don't Ever Marry," Marshall Neilan's latest offering to the screen that opened yesterday at the Rivoli.

The story goes, that Joe Benson (Matt Moore) really loves one of them and his explanations in regard to the other two are very funny to one not involved. Also when it developes that the other two wouldn't have him for a husband on a bet, their reasons for claiming him are quite interesting. Of such complications is the humorous and interesting picture, "Don't Ever Marry."

The short reels on the program consist of "Song of the Paddle," Robert Bruce scenic, "Out of the Inkwell," cartoon comedy, and Will Rogers "Illiterate Digest." All are exceptionally good. Walter Goetzinger assisted by Frank Hines, violinist, offer some excellent musical numbers, both popular and classic.

Majestic

Constance Binney is the star of "39 East," that opens a three day run at the Majestic today. This is an adaptation of the stage play of the same name in which the star has appeared with great success. So she comes to the screen a perfect study of her delightful role. Many others of the original company are in the cast, thus assuring the patrons that the picture is every bit as good as the play. How the little country girl comes to New York to find expression, how she suffers the trials the heartaches and how she triumps in the end is told in scenes rich in sentiment, humor and romance. The atmosphere is perfect, and a very pleasant evening is in store for you.

"By Golly," a Mack Sennett comedy and Fox News will complete the program. Beyerstedt's incomparable orchestra will offer a new selection of music both popular and classical.

Bijou

The celebrated O. Henry story, "A Double Dyed Deceiver," starring Jack Pickford opens at the Bijou today. Jack Pickford does some of the best work of is career as the "Llano Kid." The "Llano Kid" didn't know what love was until he went to South America, but a kindly word from an old lady changed everything. Instead of being a bad hombre, he became a Spanish Grandee, then he met the girl.

An interesting and pleasing story, "Roaming Romeo," a Hank Mann comedy, completes the program.

Casino

"Rose of Nome" ends its run tonight. Tonight is the last chance to see this intensely interesting phoroplay, starring Gladys Brockwell. It is a good story well told. It deals with the faithful, silent love of a true man for a true women who is surrounded by evil influences and yet sheds the glory of her fine character on all with whom she comes in contact. Trill follows thrill in quick succession. Bennie Leonard in "The Evil Eye," completes the program.

Rialto

Three pawns of fate, all playing their own games love, scandal, intrigue and a woman's wiles. Over them all is the menace of disaster which entangles them in the secret affairs of state and engulfs them in a whirling vortex of adventure. This the theme of "An Adventure in Hearts," starring Robert Warwick and Helene Chadwick. This picture will be at the Rialto today only. To complete the program the management has booked "Slipping Feet," a Sunshine comedy and episode No. 9 of "The Vanishing Dagger."

Strand

"The Girl in the Rain," starring Anne Cornwall, played in one of the downtown houses recently and has been reviewed in these colums before.

CLAIMS ALL MURPHYS WILL VOTE FOR HARDING

NEW YORK—All the Murphys of the country are going to vote for Senator Warren G. Harding, according to Thomas J. Murphy of the Bronx, who called at the Harding democratic league headquarters on Sunday and made this announcement.

"The Murphy clan is going to vote for Harding, and there are enough Murphys around to make an army," said Mr. Murphy, who was a champion half-mile runner in 1883.

"Every mother's son of a Murphy in the United States has been a democrat since he first came over from Ireland. Now the Mrs. Murphys and Miss Murphys are voting, and they are going to vote for Harding."

WINONA IS FACING THREAT TO CLOSE ITS BRIDGE ROAD

Serious Situation Confronts City as Result of Promise of Wisconsin Attorney General

What action Winona business men should take with regard to the threat of the Wisconsin attorney general's department to close the so-called Winona road leading to the interstate bridge unless it is promptly made safe, is to be the topic for discussion before members of the Association of Commerce Monday night at the Hotel Winona, it was announced today. The occasion will be the first of the association's series of monthly meetings. The hour is 6:30 o'clock.

The situation with respect to the road has now become serious, the announcement of the meeting said, and requires prompt action. A large attendance was urged.

The announcement says in part:

"The situation of the Wisconsin dike road leading to our bridge has become acute. The Wisconsin authorities threaten to take immediate action to close the road and shut off Winona from vehicular traffic from and to Wisconsin. The question simmers down to this: Shall Winona's business men raise a sum of money, and put that road in good condition, or shall they stand together and resist the closing of the road.

"This is a matter upon which every member should express himself. You realize that if it is decided to raise money, your share of the contribution will be large. If it is decided to fight the closing of the road, it is essential that everybody in Winona stand by his neighbor in the fight. This question should not be settled by your board of directors alone; they need your assitance."

CHICAGO.—Witty Schachman, alleged radical and formerly secretary to Nikolai Leinine, head of the Russian soviet, was arrested, and many important documents were said to have have been seized.

WARNING AGAINST FAKE FRUIT DRINKS IS ISSUED BY U. S.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 27.—Warning against "fake" fruit beverages which have flooded the soft drink market since the advent of prohibition was issued today by the public health service. Many of the orange beverages, it was said, consist only of sweetened carbonated water, flavored with a little oil from the peel of oranges and artificial colored. The department of agriculture has ruled that provisions of the pure food act will be held violated in case such drinks are sold under trade names which lead the purchaser to believe they contain the edible portion or juice of the fruit named.

PILOT AND PASSENGER KILLED IN PLANE FALL

Bodies of Two Buried in Mud Under Ten Feet of Water

CAPE CHARLES, Va.—During the flight of a seaplane at Wachapreague island Sunday afternoon William Bell, the pilot, and Harry Boulter, a passenger were instantly killed when the machine became uncontrollable, due to engine trouble, and plunged 500 feet to earth.

The bodies were buried in the bottom of an inlet in ten feet of water, the force imbedding the bodies in the mud. They were brought, unrecognizable, to the surface by divers.

The tragedy was witnessed by a crowd of horrified spectators. Bell was carrying passengers on pleasure trips along the Atlantic ocean.

During the war Bell served as an instructor at Kelly field, Texas. He leaves a widow and one child.

WASHINGTON. — The national community board, incorporated to "act as attorney for the public" has opened headquarters here.

NOTICE OF REFERENDUM ELECTION ON THE PROHIBITION ENFORCEMENT ACT.
("Mulberger Bill")

County of La Crosse, State of Wisconsin—ss.

I, BERT A. JOLIVETTE, County Clerk of La Crosse County, Wisconsin, do hereby certify that the following law is to be submitted to a vote of the people at a General election to be held in the several cities, towns and villages of the County of La Crosse, Wisconsin, on the first Tuesday of November, 1920, being the second day of said month.

(No. 146, S.)

CHAPTER 556. LAWS OF 1919

An Act To suspend the operation of chapter 66 of the statutes of 1917 entitled "Excise and the sale of intoxicating liquors" and to create sections 1569—1 to 1569—32 inclusive, of the statutes, relating to intoxicating liquors to provide for the enforcement of Article 18 of the Constitution of the United States, providing penalties, making an appropriation and defining intoxicating liquor.

The people of the State of Wisconsin, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

Section 1. Chapter 66 of the statutes of Wisconsin for 1917 entitled "Excise and the sale of intoxicating liquors" is hereby suspended and declared to be inoperative so long as this act shall be and remain in force and effect.

Section 2. Twenty-two new sections are added to the statutes to read Section 1569—1. After this act becomes operative, the manufacture, sale or transportation of intoxicating liquors, as herein defined, within, the importation thereof into, or the exportation therefrom into, or the exportation thereof from the state of Wisconsin, except as may be herein or hereafter provided is hereby prohibited.

Section 1569—2. This act shall be deemed to be an exercise of the power reserved by and granted to this state by Article 18 of the constitution of the United States.

Section 1569—3. Intoxicating liquor within the purview of said constitutional amendment and the provisions of this act shall be construed to be and include all liquors and drinks of whatsoever name or description, including patent or proprietary medicines, capable of being used as a beverage containing more than two and one-half per centum of alcohol by weight at 60 degrees Fahrenheit. But if the Congress of the United States shall hereafter by a valid act which shall become the law of the land and be paramount to any state laws on the subject, define the words "intoxicating liquors" as used in article 18 of the constitution of the United States then such definition, from the time such act of congress becomes operative, shall be the definition thereof under this subdivision.

Section 1569—4. Pure grain alcohol wines and other liquors, containing more than two and one-half percentum of alcohol by weight, may be manufactured in or imported into or exported from this state for medicinal mechanical, scientific and sacramental purposes and sold for such purposes only and may be sold as herein provided and not otherwise. Denatured alcohol may be freely manufactured and sold, provided its manufacture complies strictly with the laws now or hereafter enacted by Congress relative thereto and the rules and regulations issued by the department of internal revenue.

Section 1569—5. There is hereby created of office of "Prohibition Commissioner." On or before the sixteenth day of January, 1920, the governor shall, by and with the advice and consent of the senate, appoint a suitable person as such prohibition commissioner. Such prohibition commissioner shall have his office in the capital, at Madison, to be provided at public expense, and such officer shall hold his office for the term of four years from and after the date of his appointment and until his successor shall be appointed. Any vacancy occurring in said office shall likewise be filled by executive appointment. Said prohibition commissioner shall receive a salary of four thousand dollars per year and his actual and necessary expenses incurred in the discharge of his duties. He shall take and subscribe the constitutional oath of office and file a bond, for the faithful discharge of his official duties, in the sum of twenty-five thousand dollars, which shall be approved by the governor. Such prohibition commissioner may appoint necessary deputies, to be known and designated as "Deputy Prohibition Commissioners," and may employ all necessary clerks and fix the compensation and renumeration of all such deputies and clerks so appointed and file all such appointments, together with a statement showing the compensation or salary so fixed, prior to the employe or appointee entering upon his duties or employment, with the secretary of state; and such appointee or employee shall receive the compensation so fixed, to be audited, allowed and paid on the certificate of the prohibition commissioner in the same manner as salaries and compensations are now allowed and paid to state officials and employes. The prohibition commissioner shall have and possess a suitable official seal, and all permits issued by him, under the provisions of this act shall have affixed thereto a clear impression of said official seal. Other documents may be authenticated by a printed copy of the impression of said official seal. Said deputies may perform all or any of the duties herein provided to be performed by the prohibition commissioner. All such deputies shall file such bond as the prohibition commissioner shall require, to be approved by the prohibition commissioner. It shall be the duty of the prohibition commissioner to exercise and perform all the duties and acts required of him by this act. For failure to perform such duties he shall be subject to removal by the governor, for cause upon due notice and an opportunity to defend.

Section 1569—6. It shall be the duty of all district attorneys, sheriffs, deputy sheriffs, constables and other executive law enforcement officers to aid and assist said prohibition commissioner or his deputies in the enforcement of the provisions of this act.

Section 1569—7. It shall be the duty of the prohibition commissioner to designate and issue a permit (which permit may be revoked for cause) to one or more persons in each municipality in this state who shall be authorized to have in possession and sell under such general rules and regulations as he may prescribe, alcohol, vinous, spiritous or malt liquors containing in excess of two and one-half percentum of alcohol by weight to be used exclusively for medicinal, mechanical, scientific and sacramental purposes. The person so designated shall execute a bond in the penal sum of one thousand dollars for the faithful compliance with the rules and regulations so prescribed by the prohibition commissioner, with reference to the possession and sale of any such liquors. In the event of failure to comply strictly therewith the amount of said bond shall be forfeited to the state of Wisconsin and in addition the persons so offending shall be liable to all other penalties herein prescribed.

Section 1569—8. No person who shall keep or have in possession for retail sale non-intoxicating beverages as defined in section 1569—3 hereof shall at any time have in his possession or under his control in the building in which he conducts his business or selling or dispensing any such beverages any intoxicating liquor as defined in said section. The prohibition commissioner or his deputies shall have the right of access at all reasonable hours, without notice, to the premises occupied by any such retail dealer in non-intoxicating beverages, to investigate if this provision is being violated.

Section 1569—9. No place in which non-intoxicating drinks or beverages, as defined in section 1569—3 hereof, are sold or dispensed for consumption upon the premises where sold, shall maintain a standing bar or counter at which any such drinks or beverages containing alcohol in any degree are permitted to be drank or consumed by the purchaser.

Section 1569—10. The common council of cities, the village board of villages and the town board of towns for the purpose of regulating and enforcing the sanitary conduct of places in which non-intoxicating beverages as defined in section 1569—3 hereof are manufactured or sold may pass ordinances fixing the terms and conditions under which such places may be conducted and operated and may limit the number of such places, and the locations at which such business or any part thereof may be conducted, and may require that any person who wishes to operate any such business shall first procure a permit (which permit may be revoked for failure to comply with the conditions of this act or any ordinances relating to said business.) A fee of not more than one hundred dollars per annum may be exacted before the granting of such permit and shall be payable in such amounts and at such times as may be fixed by ordinance. The commodities to be sold under such permit may be separated into classes and a separate fee may be exacted for each class not exceeding in all the maximum of one hundred dollars.

It shall be the duty of the treasurer of each town, village or city in this state wherein a fee is collected for a permit as herein provided, to remit to the state treasury within sixty days after such fee is collected five per cent of the total amount collected, and such moneys when so received by the state treasurer shall be set aside and constitute a separate fund for the payment of salaries and other expenses of the prohibition commissioner, and in carrying on the work connected with the enforcement of this act.

Section 1569—11. Whenever a number of the qualified electors of any town, village or city equal to or more than ten percentum of the number of votes cast therein for governor at the last general election shall present to the clerk thereof a petition in writing signed by them praying that the electors thereof may have submitted to them the question whether or not any permit shall be issued under the provisions of this act to sell any non-intoxicating beverages as defined in section 3 hereof, containing alcohol in any degree whatsoever as a beverage and shall file such petition with the clerk at least two weeks prior to the first Tuesday of April next succeeding, such clerk shall forthwith make an order providing that such question shall be submitted on the first Tuesday of April next succeeding the date of such order. The city clerk making such order shall give notice of the election to be held on such question in the manner notice is given for the regular city election; town and village clerks who make such orders shall give notice by posting written or printed notices in at least five public places in the town or village not less than two weeks before the day of election. The election on such question shall be held and conducted and the returns canvassed in the manner in which elections in such city, town or village on other questions are conducted and the returns thereof canvassed. The result shall be certified by the canvassers immediately upon the determination thereof and be entered upon the records of the town, village or city, and shall remain in effect until another election is held for the same purpose.

The ballots upon the question so submitted shall be deposited in a separate box in each town and election district and shall contain the words "For permit" and "Against permit" and shall otherwise conform with the provisions of subsection 8 of section 6.25. If a majority of the ballots cast upon such question be "Against permit," then it shall be unlawful for any person to sell or traffic in any of the beverages defined in section 1569—3 of this act as non-intoxicating which contain any alcohol whatsoever in the town, village or city so voting "Against permit" and any permit granted or issued therein so long as the result of such election shall remain unreversed by another election held for the same purpose shall be void, but if a majority of the ballots so cast shall be "For permit," it shall be lawful for the town board, village trustees or common council, as the case may be, to grant permit for the sale of such beverages.

The provisions of this act shall not authorize the sale of beverages containing alcohol in any town, village or city in this state where such sale is now illegal until an election shall have been had under the provisions hereof permitting such sale under the conditions in this act prescribed.

Section 1569—12. Manufacturers and chemists who use alcohol for industrial and scientific purposes or in the manufacture of products not suitable for use as an intoxicating beverage, superintendents of hospitals, museums, laboratories, educational institutions, dentists, physicians and persons, for lawful purposes, may secure a permit from the prohibition commissioner authorizing the purchase and possession of alcohol and liquors for the purpose permitted by this act, upon making due application therefor in accordance with such rules and requirements as the prohibition commissioner may promulgate, and upon filing a bond in such sum, not to exceed two thousand dollars, as in the discretion of the prohibition commissioner shall be required, conditioned that said alcohol and other liquors will be used only for the purposes stated in the application and permit and in accordance with law. Such permit may be revoked by the prohibition commissioner if the conditions thereof are not complied with, after notice is given to the holder of such permit to appear before said prohibition commissioner and show cause why such permit should not be revoked.

Section 1569—13. This act shall not be construed to authorize the confiscation or seizure or make unlawful the possession of liquors defined in section 1569—3 hereof as intoxicating liquor, owned by individuals and possessed and kept for the individual use of the owners thereof at the time this act becomes operative; provided such liquors were lawfully purchased prior thereto for private purposes and not for purposes of unlawful sale, but all such liquors kept by retail dealers in non-intoxicating beverages as defined in said section and on hand in the building where such business is conducted at the time this act becomes operative, or at any time subsequent thereto, shall be deemed contraband and subject to seizure by the prohibition commissioner.

Section 1569—14. In addition to the powers and duties conferred upon the prohibition commissioner by this act, he is authorized and empowered to make other and further reasonable rules and regulations relative to the possession and sale of intoxicating liquors or drinks as a beverage as herein defined, general in their application, not inconsistent herewith, for the enforcement of the provisions of this act, and all such rules and regulations, including those herein specifically enumerated, shall have the force and effect of law.

Section 1569—15. All alcohol and intoxicating liquor as defined in section 1569—3 hereof shipped or carried into this state for any lawful purpose or use permitted by the terms hereof shall be plainly labeled on the outside describing the nature and character of the liquor, the name of the consignee and consignor in plain letters in the English language. All such liquors not so labeled shall be forfeited to the state and be subject to confiscation by the prohibition commissioner and by him delivered to public state institutions for medicinal, mechanical or scientific use.

Section 1569—16. Premises occupied by the owner or by a tenant whereon intoxicating liquors are sold contrary to the provisions of this act are declared a nuisance and may be abated in an action shall be maintained with respects to premises occupied by a tenant of the owner until notice of such violation of law is first given the owner and he has an opportunity to evict such tenant. Proceedings for such eviction must be instituted within ten days after notice and promptly prosecuted to judgment or any citizen may intervene or begin such action in the name of the state and prosecute the same. Upon final judgment that such nuisance exists, that part of the premises so used in violation of law shall be abated and an injunction issued permanently restraining their use for any purpose contrary to law and the owner may be required to give bond in such sum as the court may deem adequate that said premises or the part thereof so abated and declared a nuisance will not thereafter be used for the sale of intoxicating liquors.

Section 1569—17. No person shall advertise, sell, deliver or have in possession any preparation, compound or tablet manufactured for the purpose of adding the same to or mixing the same with a non-intoxicating beverage or drink from which intoxicating liquors as defined in section 1569—3 hereof can be made, unless he has a permit from the prohibition commissioner authorizing such possession sale or advertisement.

Section 1569—18. The provisions of this act shall not be construed to prevent:

(1) The manufacture, sale and keeping and storing for sale by any person having a permit of any medical preparation manufactured in accordance with formulae prescribed by the United States Pharmacopoeia or national formulary or any patent or proprietary remedy in conformity with the laws of this state unless such medical preparations are suitable for beverage purposes.

(2) The manufacture and sale of toilet, medical and antiseptic preparations or solutions neither designed nor sold for use as beverages.

(3) The manufacture, keeping for sale or selling of flavoring extracts manufactured or sold for culinary or flavoring purposes only.

(4) Any person having a permit who is a manufacturer of flavoring extracts or toilet, medicinal, antiseptic preparations or solutions, patent or proprietary medicines or preparations, from purchasing possessing transporting and storing alcohol necessary for the manufacture of such articles.

Section 1569—19. Any person who shall vend, sell, deal or traffic in, or for the purpose of evading any law of this state, give away intoxicating liquor as herein defined, except as herein provided, or violate any other provision hereof or any lawful order made under the provisions of this act, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction shall be fined not less than one hundred dollars or more than five hundred dollars or by imprisonment not exceeding six months or by both such fine and imprisonment in the discretion of the court. And in the event of a second conviction for any such offense within one year may be punished by a penalty equal to double the maximum penalty prescribed for a first offense.

Section 1569—20. There is hereby appropriated a sufficient sum to provide for the payment of salaries and compensation of said prohibition commissioner, his deputies, and employes, and to carry this act into effect, not exceeding fifteen thousand dollars in all in any one year.

Section 1569—21. If at any time after the passage of this act the eighteenth amendment to the constitution of the United States shall become void and no effect, then and in such case and from the date said amendment is declared to be or becomes void and of no effect this act shall be null and void and the provisions of chapter 66 herein referred to in section 1 hereof shall again become operative and of full force and effect.

Section 1569—22. If any of the provisions of this act shall be held to be invalid all other provisions of the same which are not so expressly held to be invalid shall continue in full force and effect.

Section 3. This act shall be in force and effect on passage and publication on and after January 16, 1920, and continue in force and effect to and including January 1, 1921.

The prohibition commissioner shall have power to enforce the provisions of this act and all other acts relative to intoxicating liquor, and it shall be his duty and the duty of all peace officers of the state, to make complaints and institute prosecutions for a violation of the same, and all such officers and any citizen may on information and belief make complaint before any magistrate or court to the effect that provisions of this act are being violated and that intoxicating liquors are being kept for purposes of unlawful sale at a particular place to be designated, and praying that a warrant may be issued to search the premises where said intoxicating liquors are so being kept and seize the same, and upon filing any such complaint a warrant may issue commanding the officer to search the premises and seize any and all liquors believed to be intoxicating and bring the same before the court for further proceedings according to law. The procedure shall be substantially the same as the procedure provided for search warrants in larceny cases and such liquors shall be subject to such disposition as the prohibition commissioner may order.

Section 4. The question whether the provisions of this act shall continue to be in force and effect from and after January 1, 1921, shall be submitted to the people of this state in the manner provided by law for the submission of an amendment to the constitution at the election to be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday, in November, 1920. If approved by a majority of the votes cast upon that question, it shall continue of force and effect from and after January 1, 1921, otherwise it shall cease to be of force and effect and become null and void.

Upon the ballot shall be printed: "Shall chapter—(insert on the ballot the number of the chapter) of the laws of 1919 entitled (insert the title of the act) be continued of force and effect."

Section 5. This act takes effect as above provided, subject, however, to all provisions herein contained for its submission to the people for their ratification or rejection.

Approved July 12, 1919.
Published July 18, 1919.

NOTE: If the foregoing law is ratified by this election, it becomes the law of this state on the subject of intoxicating liquors, except as amended by Chapter 685 of the Laws of 1919, and except as affected by the Eighteenth Amendment to the U. S. Constitution and the Volstead Act of Congress enforcing same. If it is rejected, the effect will be to reinstate the former law on said subject known as Chapter 66 of the Revised Statutes, of 1917, with the same exception as above noted.

CUPID MUDDLES THE ISSUE; WITNESS WEDS

LOUISVILLE, Ky.—It is not known how she stood during the litigation, but it's safe to bet that Mrs. Hattie R. Dohoney, who came here to testify in the suit of Kal Heine, to force his godfather, K. B. Grahn, to pay him a salary of $15,000, is now of Grahn's side. For Mrs. Dohoney is now Mrs. Grahn and the pair are en route to Hawaii for a honeymoon. Grahn, one of Louisville's wealthiest men, denied he was to pay Heine a salary of $15,000 a year and Mrs. husband, of Kansas City whose first husband was a brother of Grhan, came to Louisville to testify. Grahn is 76, while his bride is 25 years younger.

NEWSIE INVENTS "GOLD MINE" PLAN

HOUSTON.—Abner Hawkins, newsie here, is the inventor of what he calls the "chewing gum" system of gold mining. Thus far Abner's bit of gum on the end of a piece of string hasn't stuck to gold in the cracks of the sidewalk where Abner has his newsstand, but it has located pennies and dimes and Abner has hopes.

SHE HAS MANY MOTHERS DIE

EVANSVILLE, Ind.—News of her mother's death made her cry so loudly that the neighbors thought she was intoxicated, Mrs. Anna Edwards told the court here. "Try and cry more softly next time your mother dies," enjoined Judge Ireland, when he learned that this was the second time Mrs. Edward's mother's sad decease had called for noisy tears.

SHORT COPS TO MEET SHORTAGE IN COPS!

ST. PAUL.—Steps are being taken by Commissioner Smith to shorten the height of policemen to meet the shortage of cops. No, it isn't a joke at all! St. Paul's cops, under the present rule, must be five feet, eight inches in their socks. There are now 40 vacancies, hence the fight for reduoing the height standard.

The Moth and the Flame

The explanation of why the moth dashes into the light is: There are two symmericay ponits, exactly alike chemically, on the moth's body—namely, its eyes. If the rays of light modify the chemical condition of one side more than the other, then the moth's power of movement is affected. There is a stronger muscular tension on one side than the other, and the moth is forced to move towards the source of light. If however one of the eyes is removed, the chemical symmetry is destroyed, and instead of plunging into the flame it moves about in a circle.

The Next War

The next war, says a famous American physician, will be waged from the air with deadly bacteria as the weapons. "Capsules of deadly germs will be dropped over cities with a most destructive effect." We should worry. Give everybody a shot in the arm—six, if necessary—and let them explode their germs.—Watch on the Rhine.

The Excellent "Calimyrna" Fruit

The growing of figs of the Smyrna variety in California, is an exceedingly profitable crop and the acreage given over to it is growing rapidly. The fruit is known as "Calimyrna", a combination of the words California and Smyrna. All efforts in this direction were rank failures until it occurred to some one to import a quantities of flies which are known to frequent the fig orchards of Smyrna and after this the California experiments proved to be very successful. The fly was the means of fertilizing the plants. The product of the big fig has long been as good as that of the imported article: in some other respects, notably the delicacy of the skin, the Calismyrna has not quite equalled the best from Smyrna. It must be remembered that the natives of Asia Minor have been drying figs for thousands of years and have developed methods that are not learned in a day. Delicacy of the skin of the dried fig is a matter of variety, and of handling. Experiment is bringing to California varieties better and better adapted to conditions here and the handling improves from season to season. The real wonder is that this fig has been brought to so high a degree of perfection in California in so short a time.

Multiplying the Wheat Yield 21 Times Per Man

"IT takes thirteen minutes of human labor to produce every bushel of wheat that comes out of a good American wheat state. In Europe a bushel of wheat required four and one half hours of labor"—Dearborn Independent.

Europe with its pre-war wealth of labor developed intensive hand cultivation to an extent undreamed of because unnecessary in America. In the United States labor shortage developed a type of farming which gave petroleum products a chance to lend a hand.

Increased labor-shortage in the United States has meant increased application of gasoline-power to the farms of the Middle West. Mechanical power has multiplied the wheat-yield 21 times per man.

The fact that power machinery, and gasoline to run it, is going on the farms is responsible in no small degree for the large crops produced for 1920. The great mission of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is to produce enough gasoline to supply the farmer with all he can use at the time and place he needs it, and at a low price.

"Domestic consumption of gasoline, far outstripping our production of crude petroleum, has forced gasoline up in price. During the first four months of 1920, gasoline consumption increased 796,030 gallons a day more than production during the same period" (Oil News, July 5, 1920). While more crude oil is being produced in 1920 than even the most enthusiastic optimist dared predict five years ago, it is not sufficient to meet the ever increasing demand.

Every facility developed by the vast organization of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) through years of service, is being directed to the end of supplying the farms of the Middle West with necessary petroleum products. Transportation difficulties have been anticipated by this company, so that there has been no serious shortage of petroleum products to the farmer in any of the states served by this Company—the dark green tank wagon delivering even to the tractor in the field in emergencies.

Helping the farmer produce and market his crop is one of the essential services rendered by the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) to the people of the Middle West.

MARKET IN REACTION

Gains in Early Trading Lost Under Buying Pressure

NEW YORK, Sept. 27.—Gains made at the opening of today's market were lost before the end of the first hour, when last week's heavy selling movement of prominent industrials and specialties was resumed. Losses of 2 to 6 points were sustained by Bethlehem, Crucible, Republic and Nova Scotia Steels, Chandler and Studebaker Motors, Baldwin Locomotive, Bosch Magneto, Hide and Leather preferred and American Woolen. Coppers, shippings, Corn Products, food products and Cocoa Cola also fell one to two points. Early advances in the rails were forfeited when industrials became heavy. Call money opened at seven per cent and English exchange was steady.

With scarcely an exception, prices were substantially higher at the active opening of today's stock market. Sentiment seemed favorably influenced by the large gain in local federal bank reserves. Initial advances of one to four points were made by Crucible Steel, Mexican Petroleum, Great Northern, Canadian Pacific, Western Pacific, St. Louis and San Francisco, Kelly-Springfield Tire and Inspiration Copper. Equipments, Motors, Tobaccos and the food specialties were firm. American Woolen was the only issue to record more than a fractional loss, declining 1½ points.

The cheaper western and southwestern railway issues registered additional gains later, but industrials made only feeble rallies. The closing was heavy.

WHEAT MARKET BEARISH

New Breaks Force Values to Lowest Since Resumption of Trading

CHICAGO, Ill., Sept. 27.—Persistent selling in small lots had a bearish effect today on wheat. The selling appeared to be based on the general downward swing of commodity prices. Breaks which resulted forced wheat values to the lowest level yet since the resumption of trading in future deliveries. After opening ¼c off to ½c advance, with December $2.17½ to $2.19½ and March $2.11 to $2.12¼, the market fell sharply all around but then recovered to about Saturday's finish.

Houses with seaboard connections absorbed the selling later and the market scored a steep advance. Prices closed strong 4¼c to 6¼c net higher, with December $2.22¼ to $2.23¾ and March $2.17¾ to $2.18.

Corn showed strength owing to unfavorable weather. Temporarily, however, the market was depressed by the weakness of wheat. Opening prices, which ranged from ½c decline to ⅝c advance, with December 93⅞c to 94⅜c, were followed by a sag all around, and then by decided upturns.

Frost in the west and northwest led subsequently to a material upturn of values. The close was nervous, 2c to 5¼c net higher, December 95 to 96¼c.

Oats reflected the strength of corn, starting ⅛c to ⅞c higher, December 57¾c to 58⅛c, and continuing firm.

Provisions lacked support.

NELSONS SCORE VICTORY OVER GENOA IN TWELVE INNING MATCH

CLOTHING COMPANY WINS CHAMPIONSHIP MATCH YESTERDAY

Lefty Sullivan, Formerly of White Sox, Hurls for Genoa in Game Yesterday

FITZKE SINGLES FOR WINNING RUN IN THE TWELFTH INNING

More Than Fifty Carloads of Local Fans Witness Game

With Lefty Sullivan, at present with the Fairbanks-Morse aggregation of Beloit, and last year with the Chicago White Sox, representing them on the mound, the Genoans were defeated 3 to 2 yesterday in a twelve-inning game by the Nelson Clothing company for the championship of western Wisconsin. Sullivan struck out twenty men, without allowing a walk.

The local team was the first to score, netting two in the second frame, and were tied in the fourth when Genoa came in for two runs. The game then went scoreless until the twelfth inning, when the winning tally came as a result of Fitzke's single. In the last frame, Wall, the first man up, struck out. Freng followed with a single which started the progress of the local's for victory. Falk up, sacrificed to Sullivan, making two down with Freng on second base. After Freng advanced to third on a passed ball, Fitzke came in for a timely single scoring Freng for the winning run of the game. Johnson rapped a fly to Copsey for the third down.

Fitzke and Sullivan each allowed eight hits during the game. Sullivan's pitching featured the bill for the Genoans, striking out twenty men, but with ragged support at times, and costly errors on the part of the team, was unable to come out of the game on the long end of the score in his one-day stand with the Genoans yesterday. The local's only error was the result of a wide throw by Johnson to Freng. Wall and Johnson of the Nelsons each came in for a two-bagger, while Franzine scored the only double for the Genoans. Fitzke struck out eleven men, passing one, and won his own game when he singled in the twelfth scoring Freng.

The largest representation of local fans witnessing an outside game, followed the team to Genoa yesterday, fifty or more carloads from La Crosse driving down for the game. Nic Bartel and Danny Hastings umpired the game. The score:

LOCAL RIFLE CLUB WINS SHOOT WITH TOMAH YESTERDAY

Kling is High Point Winner with Total of 141; Tomah Rifleman Wins Second

Featured by close competition, particularly on the 600 yd. range, the rifle shoot between the Tomah and La Crosse clubs at the local range yesterday, resulted in a victory for the La Crosse men, totaling 888 points to the Tomahans 858.

An interesting feature of the event was the keen individual competition between Kling, executive officer of the La Crosse club and Schendel, executive officer of the Tomah club. The two men were shooting competitors on the firing line, Kling winning out by 22 points. Kling was the high point shooter, totaling 141, with Sturkel, of Tomah and Nickas tied for second with 132 points. Because of having a higher score on the 600 yd. range, Sturkel won second, this being the method used in deciding the winner in the event of a tie.

Members of the La Crosse club were awarded championship medals presented by the local club. After the shoot, the prizes for the President's cup shoot, just completed by the local club, were awarded. P. J. Iverson was winner of the shoot awarded the cup for one year, together with a gold medal, which becomes his permanent property.

The Tomah club challenged the local's to another shoot to take place on the Tomah range in two weeks. The scores:

COMMISSION MEETS TO DRAFT WORLD'S SERIES SCHEDULES

CHICAGO, Ill., Sept. 27—The National baseball commission met today to draft schedules for the world's series, and attend to other business. While it is not known who the contenders for the championship will be in either league, the committee will draw up two sets of schedules, so that should either Cleveland or Chicago win in the American league or Brooklyn or New York win in the National, there will be schedules of games already prepared.

Another matter expected to come up today will be the petition of major league umpires for increased pay for world series work. The umpires have asked to work on a percentage basis, as the players do.

SUPERBAS DOWN GIANTS 4 TO 2

Dodgers Take One Step Nearer National League Pennant Honors

MARQUARD PITCHES WINNING BATTLE IN RARE FORM

Toney Ousted in Second, Douglas in Seventh; Sallee Finishes

BROOKLYN, N. Y., Sept. 27.—Brooklyn went one step nearer the National league championship on Sunday by defeating New York, 4 to 2, and now needs only one more victory. As the race stands between the Superbas and Giants the former can lose all their remaining games and the best the Giants could do by winning every one would be to tie for the pennant. The two clubs will resume their series at the Polo grounds Thursday, also playing Friday and Saturday.

Brooklyn's victory was due to the pitching of Marquard and timely hitting by his teammates. Toney started in for New York, but was touched for four hits and one run in two innings. Douglas, who succeeded him, kept the runs down until the seventh, when he was responsible for two runs. Myers walked and took second on a passed ball. Konetchy and Kilduff sent fly balls to King and then Douglas intentionally passed Krueger. Marquard also walked and a hit by Olson scored Myers and Krueger.

Sallee pitched the last inning for the Giants and the Brooklyn team added another run. Nels, batting for Griffith, hit for two bases and after Wheat went out, scored on a single by Myers.

George Burns scored both runs for New York, getting to first on an error. In the third Johnston's fumble gave Burns a life and he completed the circuit on hits by Bancroft and Young. In the eighth Griffith dropped an easy fly by Burns. The latter advanced when Bancroft was passed and took third on Young's hit. Burns scored, while Young was being forced out at second on Frisch's grounder to Olson.

Another capacity crowd was present and, like Saturday, thousands were turned away. Score:

New York ..... 001 000 010—2
Brooklyn ..... 100 000 21x—4

Batteries—Douglas, Sallee, Toney and Snyder; Marquard and Krueger.

Reds 8; Pirates 0

CINCINNATI, Ohio.—The Reds broke their losing streak of six games by defeating Pittsburgh on Sunday, 8 to 0. It was Napier's fourth victory in five games since he joined Cincinnati. Adams was hit hard, being succeeded by Glazner, a recruit from Birmingham, who also was hit freely. Score:

Pittsburgh ..... 000 000 000—0
Cincinnati ..... 402 100 10x—8

Batteries—Glazner, Adams and Schmidt; Napier and Wingo.

Cardinals 6; Cubs 3

CHICAGO.—By bunching hits on Tyler in the fifth and on Martin in the Sixth St. Louis scored enough for an easy win over Chicago on Sunday, 6 to 3. North pitched effectively after getting away to a bad start. In the last seven innings the Cubs got only two hits. Score:

St. Louis ..... 001 032 000—6
Chicago ..... 120 000 000—3

Batteries—North and Clemons; Tyler, Martin, Cheeves and O'Farrell.

SLIM'S IN LUCK

NEW YORK—Slim Sallee isn't so bad after all. He picked up over $5,000 in change with the Reds last fall and now McGraw promises him a higher salary for 1921.

WHITE SOX FIND TIGERS EASY 8-1

Three Pitchers Unable to Stop Rush of Kid Gleason's Club

CHICAGO, Sept. 27.—Chicago found Detroit pitchers easy on Sunday and won the first game of the series, 8 to 1, but failed to advance in the pennant race Cleveland's victory over St. Louis enabling the league leaders to maintain their half game advance.

The visitors used three pitchers but their wildness, coupled with opportune hitting, gave the local team a commanding lead and with Cicotte pitching fine ball, Detroit had little chance. Cicottee held the visitors to seven hits, but his own error enabled Detroit to save itself from a shutout After the first inning, when Detroit got its only run, Cicotte had things much his own way.

Chicago started scoring in the first inning. Strunk began with a double and advanced to third on Weaver's fly. E. Collins and Jackson walked, filling the bases. Strunk scored after Felsch had flied to Shorten, and E. Collins moved to third. Jackson then stole second, and when Ehmke cut loose a wild pitch, J. Collins hit to left. Ehmke steadied for two innings but walked Risberg and Shalk in the fourth and was replaced by Oldham. Cicotte bunted safely filling the bases and on Strunk's single Risberg and Schalk scored.

The next inning Chicago added three more runs to its total, when after one out, Felsch doubled and J. Collins singled. Risberg walked and Felsch and J. Collins scored on Schalk's single. Risberg was caught off third, Schalk took second and registered when Cicotte singled.

Detroit ..... 100 000 000—1
Chicago ..... 300 220 00x—8

Batteries—Ehmke, Oldham, Ayres and Manion; Cicotte and Schalk.

Yanks, 9; Senators, 5.

NEW YORK. — New York held Washington even in their final series, winning 9 to 5. Ward's two home runs were responsible for Zachary's downfall, the second homer coming with two on base. Quinn eased up in the ninth when four hits and a sacrifice fly netted three runs. Ruth made a double, which bounced off Judge's glove, and scored on Peckinpaugh's single. Score:

Washington ..... 000 200 003—5
New York ..... 200 024 10x—9

Batteries: Gleason and Zachary and Picinich; Quinn and Hannah.

LOCAL GRID TEAMS PLAY TIE GAME AT COPELAND SUNDAY

Game Goes but Two Quarters; Teams Display Excellent Football Talent

Finishing but two quarters of the match, the practice football clash between the S & H and W & H aggregations at Copeland park yesterday afternoon resulted in a 6 to 6 tie.

The south side touchdown came in the first quarter, when Sorlie, left end nabbed a pass and carried the pigskin thirty yards for the count. The W & H squad came back in the second quarter, carrying the ball down the field by the line plunge method, going over for the count as the whistle ended the game. Both teams displayed excellent talent throughout the thirty minutes of play, and with additional practice this week, they will be in form to furnish some good entertainment for the local enthusiasts.

The management of the S & H team is negotiating with the West Salem griders for a game here Sunday.
